

Eisenhower Charts His Course Straight Down Middle Of Road

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says the paths to the extreme left and the far right both lead to tyranny — and that the Truman administration has been traveling left.

The Republican presidential nominee set forth those views in a speech last night in Boise, Idaho, and then flew here for a conference today with GOP leaders from seven Midwestern states.

Storm Delays Landing

Eisenhower's plane circled an hour and 20 minutes before landing at Fairfax Airport early today waiting for rain and gusts of wind sweeping the runways to moderate.

Eisenhower showed no concern during the wait aloft, chatting with members of his staff most of the time. A crowd of approximately 200 greeted him at the airport and another group cheered him as he entered his hotel for a few hours sleep before the conference.

At Boise, Eisenhower told a police-estimated crowd of about 20,000 persons:

"We have had for a long time a government in power that applies the philosophy of the left to government."

Gets Rousing Ovation

And he said centralization of power in Washington has become so great that the government "does everything but come in and wash the dishes for the housewives."

The general spoke from the steps of Idaho's Capitol in making what his associates had billed in advance as his first frankly political speech since winning the GOP nomination July 11.

He got a rousing ovation at the outset and was interrupted by applause several times.

He disregarded his prepared text, but in his off-the-cuff remarks he stressed much the same theme he had outlined in the prepared version.

"The great problem of America today," he said, "is to take that straight road down the middle, the path of progress that will never allow tyranny to become the feature of the American government."

The general promised that as President he would devote all his efforts to providing a government "that does not grow complacent, that does not grow away from the people and become indifferent to them, that does not become arrogant in the exercise of its power, but strives to be the partner and

Flash Flood Drowns 30 U. S. Soldiers On Exercises In Korea

By SAM SUMMERLIN
SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Thirty U. S. soldiers on a training exercise were engulfed by a wall of water as they crossed a river and today are feared drowned, the Eighth Army announced.

The Army said bodies of only four men caught in the flash flood last Monday had been recovered. Boats with grappling hooks swept the unidentified South Korean river for the other 26 missing men of the 45th Infantry Division. Names were withheld.

Trapped On Sandbar

Rain from a typhoon which lashed Okinawa and Korea this week unleashed the crushing nine-foot wall of water in the normally knee-deep river.

The men, part of one platoon, were trapped on a sandbar as they started to ford the river.

The Army said the platoon leader lost his life trying to reorganize his men and get them to safety when the flood roared down the stream.

It called the tragedy an "act of God" and said the tricky terrain in Korea made sudden river floods possible at any time.

Truck Bowled Over

A truck bearing eight men and some ammunition was caught in the flood as it started across at a shallow point.

A sudden rise bowled over the truck and swept it and its passengers downstream.

The Army said the missing 26 included one officer and 25 enlisted men.

Eleven of the platoon were swept onto higher sandbars and escaped. The 45th Division originally was made up of Oklahoma National Guardsmen called to active duty but in recent months it has become something of a rainbow division, with soldiers from all over the United States making up its ranks.

Snoopers To Quiz Justice Official

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Justice Department official was reported today to be a prime target of House investigators in hearings starting next Tuesday.

Rep. Chelf (D-Ky.), chairman of the special judiciary subcommittee investigating the department, declined to identify the official beyond saying he is still in the department.

Most of the top assistants to former Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath have resigned or have been given new duties in a department shake-up instituted by McGrath's successor, James P. McGranery.

The subcommittee is known to have been working on one official "in particular" for some time, and investigators reported they now think they have the "missing link" of evidence they needed.

Chelf gave no indication of the nature of the committee's case, but said there would be some "surprising revelations."

Navy Destroyer Hit By Communist Guns; Four Dead, 10 Wounded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy reported today that the destroyer-minesweeper Thompson was hit by Communist shore guns off the east coast of Korea yesterday. Four men were killed and ten seriously wounded.

One shell, believed to have been of 105 MM. caliber, struck the vessel's flying bridge, damaging the pilot house and navigating equipment.

The Thompson was hit earlier in the Korea war, on June 14, 1951, when three of her crew were killed and four wounded by Communist guns.

Dissident Maryland Group For MacArthur

BALTIMORE (AP) — A determined bid for write-in votes for Gen. Douglas MacArthur may be made in November in Maryland if a group of dissatisfied conservatives have their way.

It all depends, at this point, on whether similar dissident groups in other states will make the same move.

G. I. Whitmer, Baltimore insurance man and a leader in the Maryland movement, said a group of Marylanders, most of whom were part of the defunct Marylanders - for - Taft committee, are dissatisfied with the platforms of both parties and would move on their own.

Two Men Claim Copper Sunk In Lake Michigan

DETROIT (AP) — An 82-year old retired grocer and a Saginaw oil broker today squared away for a legal battle over the possession of a $250,000 in copper which lies in a sunken ship in Lake Michigan off East Tawas.

The grocer, Julius F. Roth, of Danbury, O., says he has spent the last ten years looking for the copper lost when the Schooner Kitty Reeves went down. Roth took his case to the U. S. district attorney here yesterday.

Blocked By Boat

He charged that the oil broker, Wilfred G. Shannon, had anchored his boat over the site where the treasure is believed buried.

Shannon announced Wednesday that he believes he has located the Kitty Reeves.

Roth claimed he located the sunken schooner two months ago. "Shannon's ship, the Bercliff, has been anchored over the spot where I found the treasure," Roth protested. "Every time I have tried to approach in my ship, the Gary B, the other vessel has sent a diver down."

Lawyers Called In

"Under admiralty laws, no ship can approach closer than 800 feet to one which has a diver over the side," he explained.

Assistant U. S. attorney Kenneth W. Smith advised Roth that he could instigate a law suit under the admiralty laws. Roth said he would consult marine lawyers on his next step.

Walkout Halted At Atom Plant

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — A plan to block any further unauthorized walkouts at the billion-dollar atomic energy plant was agreed upon by union and management officials yesterday.

While there was no word on whether the dispute involving AFL carpenters had been settled, the agreement, drawn up by President Truman's atomic energy labor relations panel, was signed four hours after the carpenters withdrew their picket line at the plant.

The declaration of policy provides penalties for workers taking part in wildcat walkouts and failing to return when ordered by the company and the union.

A spokesman for the F. H. McGraw and Co., prime contractor, said normal operations are expected today, the series of walkouts began over a week ago, reportedly caused by strife within the union local.

Yesterday, state police and sheriff's deputies were on guard to see that those who wanted to work were allowed to pass.

Pyongyang Factories Left In Flaming Ruins By UN Bombing Raids

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U. N. B29 Superforts, B26s and fighter-bombers left Communist factories, stockpiles and troop installations in flames today in two massive raids over Northwest Korea.

Thirty-eight Okinawa-based B29s hurled 350 tons of bombs on Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, last night and early today after civilians had been warned to get out.

More than 100 B26s and fighter-bombers followed with a daylight bombing of a giant cement plant at Osu, about 50 miles south of Pyongyang. Returning pilots estimated they destroyed 63 buildings and damaged 29 others.

The Osu raid was the third big Allied bombing of Communist targets in two days. The Air Force said 59 buildings were destroyed Wednesday in a 200-plane Navy and Air Force smash at the Red building area near Namyang, 25 miles northwest of Pyongyang.

Ground Action Light

Swift U. S. Sabre jets destroyed three Communist MIGs and damaged two more in high-altitude dogfights over Northwest Korea Wednesday.

The raid on Pyongyang was the third in six weeks.

U. S. Marine planes blasted 33 troop concentrations and buildings on the battlefield Wednesday.

Ground action was extremely light yesterday and early today.

Girl Left Dead On Desert Road

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — A mysterious speeding car was the only clue today to the brutal slaying of Kathryn Knodel, 16, whose battered, nude body was found on a desert highway early yesterday.

Motorist Fred Lacy told officers he met a fast-traveling automobile a few moments before he came upon the body on a lonely road near Palm Springs.

Police said it apparently had been thrown from that car. The vehicle could not have passed without running over the body, police said, and there were no tire marks on the girl's flesh.

Chemical tests are being made by sheriff's officers here today to determine whether the girl was raped.

The Redlands High School student's death was attributed to skull fractures. Her head bore the marks of many heavy blows from a blunt weapon, possibly a tire iron. Five of these were deep enough to have caused death.

The girl had been dead two hours when her body was discovered. Oak leaves and red earth in her hair indicated she had been slain somewhere in the Redlands area not far from her home, and the slayer had driven down into the desert, where he dumped the body.

American Ship Splits; British Boats Save 37

DOVER, England (AP) — Two British lifeboats hauled the 37 crewmen of the American Liberty ship Western Farmer from the gale-swept English Channel early today after their freighter, rammed by a Norwegian tanker, split in two and sank.

The lifeboats landed Capt. Gunnar Utvik of Galveston, Tex., and the rest of his crew — some bruised and battered but all safe — at this famous old port of Southeast England and at nearby Ramsgate.

Smashed Amid Ships

The 11,732-ton tanker Bjorholm, out of Oslo, came through without serious damage. She stood by until the rescue boats picked up the crew of the ill-fated 7,239-ton Western Farmer, a 9-year-old veteran of World War II.

The collision occurred shortly after 10 p.m. last night in a wind-driven rain near the Goodwin Sands — the "channel graveyard" eight miles off the Southeast Coast of England.

The tanker's bow, one survivor related, smashed into the freighter amidships — "right into the radio room." The crash put the American ship's engines and radio out of action, but emergency signals from the tanker brought rescue craft rushing to the stormy scene.

Saga Of Margaret's Bodyguards Bounces Across The Atlantic

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of whether Margaret Truman's gun-toting bodyguard roughhoused Swedish citizens bounced across the Atlantic today, trailing official denial, comment — and silence.

Swedish newspapers had first serve yesterday. They reported what they called "tough guy" tactics used by three Secret Service agents accompanying the President's daughter on her European tour.

Agents Called Gorillas

The Swedish newspaper Expressen said the bodyguards flung aside a photographer who tried to snap Miss Truman's picture at Stockholm's Central Station, blocked a theater entrance until her arrival there and kept newsmen and photographers outside Stockholm's Town Hall while she visited it.

Aftonbladet, Sweden's biggest newspaper, called the agents "gorillas." It said they were uncouth and intercepted Swedes who wanted to pass "any place where it pleases Miss Truman to be at a given moment."

No Word of Truth

The White House bounced back an unequivocal denial. Joseph Short, the President's press secretary, said:

"Our preliminary reports indi-

Irish Pen-Pal Romance Flops

DINGLE, Ireland (AP) — Frank Hayostak started back to his Johnstown, Pa., home last night without even a final wave from blue-eyed Breda O'Sullivan, his Irish pen-pal who found his name and address in a bottle.

Breda, in fact, harvested oats on her mother's farm while Frank climbed aboard the bus for Tralee. No one else came to see him off either, not even the disappointed Dingle folk who hoped that a romance would cap the couple's six years of letter writing.

Frank flew to Ireland two weeks ago to meet the young colleen he had known only through letters that started the day she found the bottle with his name and address on the Dingle shore. Frank had thrown the bottle overboard from the troopship on which he was returning from World War II army service in Europe.

A week after his arrival, both flatly denied there was any romance. But one of the local folk said that Frank "looked a very disappointed man, indeed" as he rode away last night in the rear of the bus.

City Approves Insurance Fund For Gas Plant

Escanaba City Council in meeting last night approved a program of setting aside $7,500 annually toward establishing a gas utility insurance fund, a form of city self-insurance.

In the more than 40 years of gas utility operation the city has never had the protection of public liability and personal injury insurance. The Council after discussion deemed it advisable that an insurance fund be started immediately with the addition annually of approximately $7,500 to the special insurance fund.

The self-insurance was decided upon after the Council learned that the only insurer is Lloyds of London, whose premium for coverage of one-quarter million dollars after $25,000 deductible is a quoted $7,500. Domestic insurance companies were reportedly uninterested in writing such a policy for the city.

Accept Low Bid
Council decided it would place annually into its own gas utility insurance fund the $7,500 representing the premium cost. As the fund grows the money will be invested in U. S. government bonds to obtain the interest return.

In other business the Council: Approved the low bid of Autoway Equipment Company of $2,087.10 to supply the city with a rubber-tired tractor on recommendation of the city manager. It was the lowest of three bids.

Adopted a resolution providing for construction of a sanitary sewer on Lake Shore Drive.

Authorized investment of $550,000 in water bond reserve funds in U. S. treasury bills to bring an interest return to the city.

Table Park Building
Took no action on a request of Lundstrom & Skubick, gas plant contractors, that the city pay $140.09 interest on a loan made by the contractor in purchase of the propane gas tanks at the new plant.

Referred to the engineering department for cost studies a petition to pave the alley in Block 1, Glaser's Addition.

Tabled to next meeting the proposed construction of an addition to the Royce Park playground, as recommended by the Planning Commission and Recreation Commission. The larger building would also be used as a polling place.

Referred to the city manager for recommendation a request by Glenn Caswell Sales for permission to "utilize" part of the street curbing in the 1700 block, Ludington.

Manistique Girl Is Queen Of U. P. Fair

The new U. P. State Fair Queen for 1952 is Miss Dolores Toyra of Manistique who represented Schoolcraft County as their Miss Indian Lake. She was crowned by Charles Figy, head of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, before a large audience at 1951's Queen, Miss Joanne Peterson, gave up her throne preceding the Barnes-Carruthers revue.

Queen Dolores' first reaction, "I'm thrilled and speechless!"

As part of the honor of the coronation, she will receive a vacation trip to Mackinac Island and the opportunity to represent the Upper Peninsula at the Michigan Fair at Detroit for the State Queen title.

Big Day for Queens
Her attendants are Miss Joan DeShambo, Escanaba Jaycee Queen, and Miss Jane Kaiser of Houghton as the Copper Country Strawberry Queen. Both girls were announced as runners-up after the Queen had been chosen.

The crowning climaxed a day of banquets, speeches, smiles and much walking. With Dr. J. L. Clement, chairman of the Queen's committee appointing Miss Joanne Peterson, the 1951 Queen, as mistress of ceremonies, the Queen's luncheon at the Escanaba Country Club under the supervision of the Escanaba Welcome Wagon hostesses, was the beginning. There the girls gave talks before the judges and the group attending about the theme they represented. This was to give the judges a chance to see how well the girls reacted before an audience. Private interviews were also held at that time to gain a little insight into the character of each contestant.

The girls, each a queen in her own right, were presented with specially wrapped boxes of candy. Another gift will be given to them later.

Veteran Dairy Farmer, Carl Hansen, Marks 19th Year As Fair Exhibitor

Whenever anyone asks him how many U. P. State Fairs he has attended and shown cattle in, veteran fair-goer Carl Hansen, a dairy cattle raiser from Wallace, has an easy time counting the years.

He can answer that he's been here as often as the Fair has been held. And he's not ready to quit yet.

The 58-year-old dairy farmer has shown specimens of his prize-winning herd of Jerseys at every Fair since 1928, the year the U. P. State Fair was born, and collected more blue ribbons than he can count in recollection.

This year, his 19th as an exhibitor of Jersey cattle, he brought 22 animals from his 240-acre farm in Wallace.

Even though in the past few years he has noticed the work more than the thrill of showing prize cattle, he is not ready to end the record he started at the first U. P. State Fair. Obviously, he loves the game.

Would Miss Friends
"I would quit but I'd miss all the old friends I meet here every year," he says.

After looking over the dairy cattle on opening day, he guessed that "this is the best year since the depression."

He notices that the quality of cattle now being exhibited is at a high point. They have been steadily improving in quality and number since the days of the late '20s, he claims.

All the animals he brings here, and those back on the farm, are purebred and most of them are former blue ribbon prize winners or prodigy of blue ribbon parents.

Last year he took home nine blue ribbons. His record year was 1934 when his show herd of 28 cows took 13 first places, besides a large number of red and white ribbons.

Son Will Carry On
He is now showing one animal that was born in the fairgrounds.

Fat Cattle Show At Fair Friday Morning

A fat cattle show of 51 beef animals, fattened by 4-H club members and Future Farmers of America, will be held at the Upper Peninsula State Fair cattle barn Friday morning at 11:30 o'clock.

The animals will be judged by Prof. Harry Moxley of Michigan State College and will be judged according to their beef grade — prime, choice, good, common and commercial.

Twenty-seven head are shown by FFA boys and girls from Felch, Iron River, Stephenson and Powers and the remaining 24 head are shown by 4-H club members from Dickinson, Menominee and Delta Counties.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the animals will be weighed and sold at public auction. Anticipated bidders are representatives of packing houses, hotels, restaurants, etc.

The animals to be displayed are Herefords, Short Horns and Angus. The animals vary from 560 pounds to 1200 pounds in weight.

Red China Boss Close To Stalin

MOSCOW (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-lai conferred at the Kremlin last night with Prime Minister Stalin—making it evident the generalissimo is keeping in closest touch with the current Chinese-Soviet talks here.

Diplomats regarded the visit, at which top aides of both leaders were present, as more than a courtesy call and predicted it would be the first of a series of such talks while Chou is here as the chief of a delegation seeking stronger ties between Russia and China.

It was recalled that Stalin personally steered negotiations leading to the 1950 Soviet-Chinese Treaty, which is the basis today for co-operation between the two big Communist nations.

An official communique after last night's meeting did not reveal how long it lasted or what subjects were covered.

We'll begin breeding for next year," Hansen said, showing that a cattle exhibitor's work is never done.

An avowed Jersey farmer, Hansen wouldn't consider raising any other breed. He favors Jerseys because of the rich milk they give on less food than other strains need.

This rich milk gives him an average of 430 pounds of butterfat per cow per year. Dairy farmers know that's an enviable and outstanding record.

Where Hansen raises these prize show and milk cattle is a 240-acre farm 10 miles north of Menominee off US-41. He's had the land since 1912 when he bought the first 160 acres from his brother. He added the other 80 acres in 1920.

It's a safe bet that he'll be back again next year for his 20th year as the U. P. State Fair's oldest friend.

The 22-head show herd they brought here Sunday is registered in both their names, looking forward to the time when Ray will take over the stock to carry on the Hansen story at the U. P. State Fair.

Some of their show stock this year are offspring of Ray's champion cows of his 4-H days.

The job of developing a good show cow, they'll tell you, doesn't begin a month or two before Fair time. Like thoroughbred horses, good show cows must be prepared years before they are shown.

Escanaba Traffic Ordinance Adopted

The much-discussed Escanaba traffic ordinance providing for the method of parking and other regulation of traffic on city streets, was adopted last night by City Council.

Angle parking is permitted on Ludington between Second St. and 17th St., and on most of the side streets off Ludington for the first one-half block north and south.

Excepted is South Tenth St. where there will be parallel parking from Ludington St. south, including the 100 block, because of the traffic congestion in the area.

Council also briefly discussed the advisability of establishing a traffic signal light at the Ludington and Tenth St. intersection.

Under the ordinance as adopted, angle parking will be permitted on a portion of Third Ave. N. near Stephenson Ave.

No Gyp Artists On Fair Midway This Year; Patrons Are Happy

LAST year at the Upper Peninsula State Fair a team of gyp artists operating a number of the concessions took a lot of the fair patrons for various sums of money, ranging as high as a couple hundred dollars.

At that time the Press commented editorially on the gyps at the fair.

We are indeed happy to report that the situation at the U. P. State Fair this year is entirely different. The fair board and the attorney general's office have co-operated to keep the gyps off the midway. Games of chance are outlawed and to be sure that none of the concessionaires decides to work any rackets on the fair patrons, plainclothesmen as well as uniformed law enforcement officers are constantly surveying the grounds.

Up to this time, at least, we have heard nothing to indicate that the concessions at the fair are not being operated correctly and fairly. On the contrary, the reports of the investigators are that everything on the fair midway is in good order.

No gambling is permitted on the midway and if any fair patrons are offered a "deal" by a concessionaire involving money awards, he should report it immediately to the fair officials or to the law enforcement officers on the grounds.

The manner in which the fair midway has been run thus far during fair week is proof that it is possible to have good clean fun on the midway without being subjected to a financial rooking by gyp artists.

National Primaries Would Represent All

THERE'S considerable talk in the country today about devising a simpler, more direct, more truly representative way of choosing our Presidents.

Some people want to abolish the electoral college, some want to abolish the national conventions, some would do away with both.

Roscoe Drummond, writing in The Christian Science Monitor, presents still a third idea, and it deserves attention.

He points out that as things now stand only 16 of the 48 states have presidential preferential primaries. Which means that about 60 million citizens have no direct voice at all in choosing their parties' presidential nominees.

That, in turn, means that a minority of states and a minority of voters have an undeservedly big voice in the nominations. That's because of the psychological influence which attaches to this relatively small slice of voters and states as being the best available cross section of opinion.

So what Drummond and others advocate is a national advisory presidential primary, with all states participating and all eligible voters represented.

That sort of a primary set-up would certainly leave the national conventions in no doubt whatsoever as to what candidates the voters favored. As things are, doubt seems to be what there's the most of.

Drummond questions, for instance, whether Eisenhower would have beaten Taft in a national Republican primary. He's also not sure that Stevenson would have won out over Kefauver in a contest determined entirely by all Democratic voters.

"All I am saying and all that the advocates of a national presidential primary are saying," Drummond writes, "is:

"That the voters of both parties—who are the real owners of our political parties, not the professional politicians—deserve to have an orderly, authoritative, available opportunity to register whom they want their party to nominate.

"That this is a right, not a privilege, and that if the political professionals continue to deny this right they soon are going to get into trouble with the voters."

Drummond believes national primaries should be only advisory, to begin with, until they have proved their worth. It might turn out, for instance, that not enough people would vote in such primaries to give the majority and real representativeness.

Perhaps Congress should go outside its own halls and select a commission to make an impartial survey on the problem. Already, despite the urging of 53 Democratic congressmen to sponsor a national primary, the move was blocked by some of the older professional politicians on the Resolutions Committee.

But the Democrats have recognized the existence of the problem. In fact they said this about it in their national platform:

"We recommend that Congress provide for a non-partisan study of possible improvements in the methods of nominating and electing Presidents and in the laws relating to the presidential succession. Special attention should be given to the problem of assuring the widest possible public participation in presidential nominations."

has a stroke may recover to a considerable degree, and the paralysis may be only slight.

Q—My husband is troubled with granular lids around his eyes. Can anything be done about this? Mrs. H. C.

A—Granular lids can usually be treated successfully with one or more medicated ointments. However, someone suffering from such a condition should have the eyes examined to be sure that eye strain or some other condition is not also present.

Q—Do you think it advisable for a highly nervous person to get pregnant? This person loves children and would like two boys, but she is afraid of labor. Reader.

A—This person might get two girls instead of two boys. Love of children is not enough to make a good mother. Without more information on the nature of the "nervousness" it is impossible to tell whether this person could bear and raise healthy, stable children.

Q—What is folliculitis? H. G.

A—This is infection of the hair follicles from which it gets its name. Severe folliculitis can occur as well as mild cases, with which nearly everyone has had some experience.

Merry-Go-Round

(Note to Editors: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guests columnists, today's being Sen. Estes Kefauver, Democrat, of Tennessee.)

SENATOR ESTES KEFAUVER

McMINNVILLE, Tenn.—During the last few weeks, I have been resting from the hardest campaign of my life. I lost the campaign, but my faith in the basic greatness of the American people has been increased tremendously by this experience.

I don't want anyone to get the impression that I enjoyed losing. I don't like to lose, any better than the next fellow. It was especially hard to lose in this case, when we had been at it for so long and my friends had worked so hard for me.

When the Democratic convention was over, my wife Nancy and I came to McMinnville, Tenn., to get some rest in the country on a farm of a good friend of ours, Cowan Oldham. I didn't want to talk about the convention when friends came to see me, but the subject always seemed to come up, and to be frank I think I brought it up as often as anyone else. I couldn't sleep at night, although I tried to relax my mind and get good and tired swimming, fishing, and boating with the children.

I would keep going over the events of the convention in my mind, trying to see where I could have changed things by taking a different course. Should I have held out and tried to deadlock the convention? Did I do right in going to the convention hall to withdraw? Should I have advised my friends to vote differently on some of the issues?

"Stop worrying about it, Estes," Nancy told me at last. "You did your best and the people realize it. They believe in you regardless of the outcome."

My friends were very understanding. They wrote me thousands of encouraging letters from every section of the nation. Those who lived near enough came to see me. When I went to Memphis to make a radio and television talk, they gave us such a welcome and were so thoughtful of us that I began to feel for the first time that things weren't so bad after all.

REWARDS OF CAMPAIGN

I began to see some of the good things that came out of our campaign, even though we were beaten.

Campaigning across the nation is a tremendous experience. I should certainly be a better equipped senator as a result. Now I know first hand of the attitudes and ambitions of our people in every section of the nation. River development in the far west, loss of industry in New England, special farm problems of many regions, bigotry, religious and racial intolerance are to me no longer problems to study merely from congressional hearings. I have seen them first hand.

Too often in Washington we tend to become cynical and disillusioned. When one has an opportunity of visiting as I have, the people in every section of the nation, that cynicism is washed away. This campaign has reassured me of the spiritual and economic sturdiness of our great people.

From a personal standpoint, the campaign was very rewarding. Nancy and I have made good friends in every section of the country, from New Hampshire to California and from Wisconsin to Florida.

The loyalty of these friends would be inspiring to any man. I think when I was sitting on the platform during that last ballot at the convention, waiting to make my announcement of withdrawal, I saw an exhibition of the personal greatness of men and women which has made America the nation it is.

These delegates knew my purpose in coming to the convention hall. As the roll call went on, it was obvious I had no chance. By all the rules of political conduct, it was to their interest to get on the winning side.

Some of them carried the mandate of the people of their state. Others, in states where they had no primary, had pledged support individually. With very few exceptions they stood up and counted their votes for a lost cause, because they were truly loyal.

CAMPAIGN MEMORIES

As each delegation cast its vote, memories crowded in on me of long, hard campaigns, in the hot sun of California and Florida, through the cold snow of New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Nebraska. I remembered the courage of free people fighting against dictatorial and selfish political machines, and the enthusiasm of inspired young citizens who had never taken an active part in politics before. I remembered victory celebrations with New Englanders, with middle westerners and far westerners; and I remembered one or two post-mortems when we were beaten.

London—In the commando raid on Dieppe, the allies destroyed 275 Nazi planes. Allied losses were also heavy, but the movement was reported worth all the loss.

Moscow—The Soviets were fighting back along the Don River and had wiped out one whole unit.

Escanaba—Mrs. Dorothy K. Young was a guest at the Anton Jesson home, 504 S. 6th St.

Escanaba—Mrs. P. H. Miller returned from Norfolk, Va., where she visited with relatives and friends.

Gladstone—The Misses Margaret Page and Elaine Pokensky were visiting friends in Milwaukee and Chicago.

Manistique—Visiting at the home of Mrs. Nellie Larson were Mrs. C. D. Wygal, two daughters, Doris and Ann and son Donald and William Carlson of Detroit.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Tom Rushton was visiting at the home of Senator and Mrs. H. J. Rushton.

Communist Winning Cold War In Moslem While The West Slumbers

By LEON DENNEN

PARIS (NEA)—U. S. and western diplomats are becoming painfully aware that while their diplomacy is slumbering, Middle East Cominform agents are winning the hot-cold war through-out the Moslem world.

Few Arabs shed tears over the abdication of Egypt's King Farouk—as corrupt and dissolute a monarch as ever ruled this area of abject misery, religious fanaticism and revolutionary fervor. But much more underlies the present political upheavals in Egypt, Iran, Tunisia, Morocco and other Arab countries.

As the Paris Humanite, the Cominform's chief mouthpiece in the West, said: "From Tunisia to Teheran the revolutionary movement for independence is growing."

According to U. S. intelligence reports, the Russians have recently intensified their campaign of penetration in the Middle East.

Cominform agents feverishly seek to exploit the "Arab awakening"—the developing ferment of political self-consciousness among the Arab people. Throughout the Moslem world they plot subversion and civil strife with comparative freedom.

Though Gen. Mohammed Naguib Bey, who ousted Farouk, is certainly not a Communist, the Cominform's expert hand is now clearly seen behind the army's coup d'etat in Egypt.

Strong Communist cells have long been known to exist among Egypt's students and young army officers. The Cominform has been especially successful in infiltrating the extremely pro-nationalist Wafd party and the fanatical Moslem Brotherhood who, together with the young army officers and students, plotted Farouk's overthrow.

It is to these groups that Gen. Naguib Bey will now have to look for support if he is to stay in power.

A number of well known Moscow-trained agents have recently returned from Russia to the Middle East. U. S. intelligence reports indicate. Led by Mullah Mustapha Barzani, religious chief of the Kurdish tribes in the Barzan region of Iraq, and Moustafa el-Aris, Lebanese Communist trade union leader, they have established a Cominform net that extends from Casablanca to New Delhi.

Cominform cells are said to be springing up literally overnight in Iraq, Iran, Syria and Lebanon. Syria and Lebanon are the major centers of Cominform propaganda in the Middle East. The Arabic printing presses in Damascus and Beirut are printing most of the Communist propaganda that is circulated throughout the Arab world.

Transjordan and Saudi Arabia, with their more primitive economic and social structures, are for the present harder nuts for the Kremlin to crack. But there is little doubt that the Cominform's Tudeh party was chief instigator of the organized bloody riots in Iran which returned Premier Mohammed Mossadegh to power.

Mossadegh is outwardly at the height of his power. Actually he is a prisoner of the Communists. He owes his return to office to the newly revealed Communist power of the streets, which he can hardly hope to control.

Widespread hunger, disease and political corruption in the Middle East is the Cominform's greatest ally in this strategic and oil-producing area. Western dissension and failure on the part of the NATO powers to coordinate their policies in the entire Mediterranean area has given Russia the edge in the hot-cold war.

The Arab world is not yet lost to the western camp. But now is the 11th hour for the West—especially the U. S., which still retains some prestige in the Middle East—to make basic policy decisions and take decisive action.

Such decisions must take into account the legitimate nationalist aspirations of the Arab people, whether in French North Africa or elsewhere, experts on Russia in the West believe.

In the event of war a successful thrust by Russia's southern-front armies might overrun the Middle East without much difficulty.

This would at once deprive the NATO powers of more than 20 per cent of their oil output flowing from Middle East wells, isolate the strategic Suez Canal and endanger the U. S. air bases in Cyprus.

Excepting Turkey, there is not a single government that is both stable and strong in the Middle East—not even Israel, which is energetic and progressive but still economically insecure.

NEW YORK (AP)—Every American boy has a chance to grow up to be President of the United States.

And many a doting mother would like to help her offspring get the job.

"But how?" she asks herself, despairingly. "How can I rear my boy to be President?"

What a wise mother can do is to try as much as possible to make Junior an All-American boy who appeals to all sections of the country. She might arrange to have him in the rural area of a big farm state such as Illinois, spend his boyhood in California, and begin his career in New York.

He should be educated in the South, say at the University of North Carolina, and then take a law degree from Harvard University. His vacations should be spent working at different jobs in different states—on a ranch in Wyoming, in an auto factory in Michigan, aboard a shrimp boat off Louisiana.

Early in life she should teach Junior how to talk with his mouth full of pebbles, how to fish, and how to play some musical instrument. The best one is the tuba, as every man secretly would like to be able to blow a tuba. Junior also ought to always have a dog as a pet, to show his love of animals, and made to marry a girl who likes cats.

A wise mother will see that Junior does fairly well in school, but not too well. The voters are uneasy about a candidate who is too intelligent, and contemptuous of one who is too dumb.

Now all the mother must do before launching Junior into politics is to have him enlist for three years as an Army private, then finance him in a small but successful business that makes a modest profit and gives its employees nine weeks vacation a year and a bonus at Christmas.

How can Junior escape the Presidency now? Everybody will love him—fishermen, farmers, laborers, capitalists, war veterans, cat fanciers, dog collectors, hobbyists, Easterners, Westerners, Northerners, Southerners.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

QUEEN MARGARINE—Well, we saw the Michigan Dairy Queen (a very personable young lady) at the U. P. State Fair. Miss Powell was very pretty and wore a considerable amount of formal evening attire in the daytime. Which is the way with queens of all types.

A few statistics from the Wall Street Journal set us to thinking, however, that perhaps in the not too distant future the Michigan Dairy Queen is going to have a lot more competition.

For the Wall Street Journal says that margarine (also known in some circles as oleo) is being consumed in increasing amounts and may oust butter as the top bread spread.

The end result of this, so far as we can see, is the eventual selection of Michigan Margarine Queen, who will go around to the fairs and promote goodwill for the oleo manufacturers.

LESS BUTTERFAT—The dairy producers are being materially affected by the onslaught of margarine popularity and they are trying to make their cows see the problem as well.

For one thing, the cows are being encouraged to produce more milk by volume, with a lower butterfat content.

Now is once was (and still is on the record) that butterfat was most important. Butter was the key to prosperity. When butter demand hit the skids the cow had a new problem—that of producing a large volume of milk regardless of butterfat content.

The trend is toward more milk by volume to supply the whole milk trade.

AND MORE COTTONSEED—Apparently the soybean and the cottonseed are about to dethrone the cow as the queen supplier of something to spread on bread, reports the Wall Street Journal. At least it looks that way.

Over the years Americans have eaten mountains of butter. Two decades ago they ate over 2.3 billion pounds of butter. But they've been consuming less lately. Last year they downed only 1.4 pounds.

The fast-climbing soybean-cottonseed candidate for champ in the field is margarine.

Made of vegetable oils—primarily cottonseed oil and soybean oil—its growth in popularity has been swift. As recently as 1940 a year's sales came to only 332 million pounds. Last year producers sold over a billion pounds.

FOR LAVISH LIVING—The big advantage margarine has over butter is in the price field—and that alone.

Butter is approximately twice as costly as margarine to the consumer, and housewives in increasing number have decided they would rather have more spread for the same price—regardless of flavor or quality.

Back in 1940 the per capita consumption of butter in the U. S. was 16.9 pounds, compared to 2.4 pounds of margarine.

This year it is estimated the average per capita consumption of butter will be 9 pounds—and that of margarine 7 pounds.

No amount of advertising or anti-margarine law has been able to halt the growing trend toward the low-cost spread. Margarine will be found on the family dinner table even on many dairy farms.

PRODUCT OF CHEMISTRY—Margarine is nothing new on the menu, however, either here or abroad.

The product was born in France back around 1870, the result of experiments by the chemist Hippolyte Mege-Mouriez. Its coming was fostered by short supplies of butter and other fatty foods in France and other countries.

Napoleon III was so favorably impressed that he awarded the chemist a medal. Many dairy producers in the U. S. today are inclined to think that a smarter Napoleon would have given the chemist a taste of the guillotine.

But margarine continued to grow in popularity, graduating from the original beef fat used as a base to the vegetable oils and the addition of skim milk.

Today there are but seven states in the U. S. that prohibit the sale of colored margarine. The others have fallen one by one before the charms of Queen Margarine.

One of my readers has asked me to give a simple rule, please, that will explain what adjectives should be spelled with the suffix -able and what with the suffix -ible, that is, whether the spelling permissible is permissible and defensible is defensible, as they are not.

I wish I could. Anyone who could do so would be conferring a great boon on mankind, especially upon all English-speaking stenographers.

Back in the days when every educated person was familiar with Latin, the problem was somewhat simpler. All one had to do, in most instances, was to recall whether the verb from which the adjective was made was of the first, second, or third conjugation. If the first, the suffix was -able. If the second or third, the suffix was -ible. But nowadays very few people have studied Latin, and even those who did study it in school would now have great difficulty in recalling what verbs are of what conjugation.

That rule was further complicated, however, because some of our words were borrowed from French and follow the French spelling, as fenable, capable, preferable, convertible, while others are of English source, but spelled to resemble Latin models. Some of the later are returnable, traceable, advisable, forcible, gullible.

This is one of few instances in which I would favor a spelling reform, one aimed at the abolishment of one of these forms, as the continuance of two's needless.

In the meantime, one must rely upon memory or have a small spelling book or dictionary conveniently at hand. Or, failing these helps, when in doubt take a chance and use the suffix -able, gambling on the fact that adjectives in -able outnumber those in -ible about four to one.

20-20 Vision Is Ability To Read Test Chart At 20 Feet

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Nearly everybody has heard the expression "20-20 vision," but few people know just what it means.

Q—Please explain how the eyesight rating 20-20 vision is derived? K. L. M.

A—A person who can read a certain standardized letter on a chart 20 feet away is said to have 20-20 vision. If the next larger letter can be read, the vision is said to be 20-30, etc. Ordinarily, someone is considered to have normal ability to see if he has 20-20 vision in each eye.

Q—My mother, who is getting on in years, has had several strokes in the past few years. She suffers no pain and has no difficulty except some paralysis, and she gets quite depressed. Isn't this depression normal? So many older folks have these strokes. Do they come with age, certain strains, health habits, or what causes them? Reader.

A—It is certainly normal to be depressed if one cannot move around as well as one did formerly. A stroke does come as a rule with age and is a reflection of the fact that the arteries are not as elastic as they used to be.

This results either in blood leaking out of them into the brain or a clot forming in one of these blood vessels. If the amount of bleeding is slight or the clot involves only a small vessel, someone who

Marquette County Pictures Feature At Fair Friday

Water colors were chosen for "picture of the day" display at the art exhibit at the Fair on Friday. Both are by Marquette county artists, "Secret Rock" by Mrs. Emil Kronquist of Ishpeming and "Shrimp Fleet" by Mrs. Charles Begole of Marquette.

The large water color "Secret Rock" is one of the prize winners in this year's show. It is a beautiful scene that like many other works by Mrs. Kronquist shows what fine material for painting the Upper Peninsula offers. Mrs. Kronquist is a capable artist whose pictures have been enjoyed at the Fair several years. She has studied at the art colony in Sarasota, Fla., the Summer School of Painting at Saugatuck, with Aari Lahti and with Jack Coldwell at Marquette.

Mrs. Begole's "Shrimp Fleet," also a prize winner, is a charming picture of a sea coast scene. It well serves to show the competence with which the artist handles an exacting medium.

Mrs. Begole is a leading member of the creative arts group in Marquette and has been the instigator of many activities in promotion of painting in that area. She has studied with several of the outstanding teachers at the Sarasota colony in Florida and with Jack and Nancy Coldwell at Marquette.

Odds n' Ends

Well, the Queen for the Fair has been crowned . . . to make your family crown you Queen of the Kitchen, try this . . . for kids and grownups summer parties . . . buy banana split ingredients . . . ice cream, chocolate sauce, strawberry preserves, bananas and chopped nuts and let each make his own . . . and always keep some honey on hand for dribbling over the top of chocolate sundaes . . . this gives an odd but nice flavor.

For chicken Sunday, Monday, always, or anyway . . . before frying the bird, chill it in enough buttermilk to cover for several hours . . . this, the experts say, is a gourmet's trick and the taste result would satisfy any gourmet.

Now for the odd on what to do with the chicken after it's through floating in buttermilk . . . when flouring the pieces, don't bother with those paper bags that always pop out at the crucial moment . . . a better bet is one of those heavy, washable plastic sacks . . . they wash in a jiffy in lukewarm suds, will last through many a seasoning.

Put your best face forward . . . if you have a peaches and cream complexion and need only add lipstick as the final make-up touch, you're the lucky one . . . remember that for the first month of fall, you may have to wear a darker shade of make-up base to blend with the remains of a summer tan.

Cantaloupes are still very good breakfast wise or any wise. A lazy daisy touch that will fool the family into thinking preparations have been going on for hours . . . for a breakfast treat, add a few cherries with the stems on in each hollow . . . add a drip or two of honey (again) . . . and it tastes good, too.

The last word . . . experience has shown that any more than three cones of cotton candy at the Fair causes disastrous results . . . and the need for bicarb of soda.

Sex Fascinates Children — Keep It Wholesome For Them

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D. All normal children are curious about everything related to sex and they are fascinated by some of its more spectacular aspects, such as reproduction. Most parents are like the mother who wrote the following letter in their concern about this matter:

(Q) "I am the mother of two boys, ages 9 and 11. I always thought they were clean, decent boys until lately when I have seen them playing with girls, have heard them whispering shady jokes to their friends, and have found some pictures of naked women hidden in the older boy's room. I am distressed about this matter and am turning to you for advice. What shall I do about it?"

(A) You can't stop children from being interested in sex. They are all curious and the brighter they are, the more curious. This is a perfectly natural reaction and you should not try to stop it. On the other hand, you do not want it to turn into undesirable channels.

The first thing to do is to see that your sons know as much as they can understand about all sex matters that interest them. Ask your doctor to recommend books that are suitable for children of your sons' ages, and to answer questions your sons may want to ask him. Children usually will turn to an outsider rather than a member of the family.

Tell your sons that it's bad taste to talk about sex, tell sexy jokes, or look at sexy pictures. A child must learn not to do such things but they all seem to need time to learn this. If they get the information they need from a source they can believe and trust, they usually lose interest in talking to their friends.

As a parent, your role will be to see that your sons' curiosity is satisfied wholesomely. Don't make them feel guilty when they are showing a natural curiosity and don't make them think that sex is something nasty that must be kept behind closed doors. The greatest help you can be to them will be to build up wholesome attitudes.

Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the nation's great psychologists, and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

Guardsmen At Camp Grayling

CAMP GRAYLING, Mich.—The shores of beautiful Lake Margrethe sprang into new life over the past weekend as over 8,000 Michigan National Guardsmen finished setting up the 46th Infantry Division's tent city for two weeks of rough and tough battle training. This is the sixth postwar field training encampment of the 46th Division.

Along with 110 other units the Upper Peninsula's own 107th Engineers consisting of Company A, from Calumet; Company B, from Marquette; Company C, from Escanaba; Company D, from Manistique; and Headquarters and Service Company from Ishpeming, is represented with well over 400 troops.

The first unit of the Engineers to his Camp Grayling was Company D of Manistique. The unit left its home station at 6 a. m., Saturday, August 16, and arrived at the training grounds at approximately 3 p. m. A continuous convoy of troops poured into the area assigned to the battalion, which is at the Northwest corner of Lake Margrethe, and about six miles southwest of the little town of Grayling. The last unit, Company A, arrived at 8 p. m., in the evening and final touches were completed for the first night of encampment.

Quartered In Tents
The convoys of U. P. units were under the command of Lt. Col. Leonard Ward, of Ishpeming. The soldiers of the 107th Engineers are quartered for the two weeks of their full time training in huge army tents approximately 30 feet long and 18 feet wide. Each man was issued upon arrival, a folding cot and two blankets, some of the luckier men were issued regular individual-sized cotton mattresses, but others have to rely on straw filled mattress covers. Each tent also has as flooring, a concrete base the same length and width as the tent.

The first official orders to the Upper Peninsula unit went to Company D from Manistique. The top rated troops were ordered to build a log and gravel stairway to battalion Headquarters situated on a hill near the troop tents. The unit completed the job in four hours time.

On the agenda for the first day at the training site was a Division conference. Major General Ralph A. Loveland, Commanding General of the 46th Infantry Division, was the principal. The meeting was attended by all officers and 1st three graders of non-commissioned officers at 10:45 a. m., Sunday, August 17.

Many Notables Present
As guest speaker, Brigadier General S. L. A. Marshall, noted military analyst and a Detroit newseditorial writer, gave an address covering tactical points used in the Korean fighting and also the importance of the individual man in the Army.

Other notables present on the speakers stand were Brigadier General Gordon A. McDonald, Division Artillery Officers, Brigadier General Harold T. Weber, Assistant Division Commander, Brigadier General George C. Moran, Adjutant General Michigan, Colonel Howard E. Derby, Chief of Staff, Lt. Colonel Robert D. Angell, Assistant Chief of Staff, G-1; Lt. Colonel Ronald D. McDonald, Assistant Chief of Staff, G-3; Colonel Jay I. Nowlen, Assistant Chief of Staff, G-4; and Colonel James P. Davis, Regular Army Instructor.

Stevenson Drafts Coming Speeches

I shall address myself to his undesirability for anything. I don't think I will."

Stevenson reiterated he thinks foreign policy the greatest problem facing the nation. "The destiny of the United States and the free world are at stake," he said, "and it's a problem that will confront us for years to come."

Mess Explained
He was asked to expand on what he had meant last week when he wrote a letter to Editor Tom Humphrey of the (Portland) Oregon Journal in which he referred to a "mess in Washington."

Stevenson said he was only repeating a phrase that Humphrey had used in a letter to him when he referred to a "mess." But then he conceded that the conviction of wrongdoers was proof there had been a mess and he said: "Crime, corruption and misconduct are messy wherever they are."

King-Size Fags Hit German Black Market

BERLIN (AP)—U. S. Army post exchange stores in Germany have been told to cut down sales of king-sized cigarettes to stem the flow of the coveted "longies" to the German black market.

King-sized types are a premium-priced item on the black market, where they bring a seller 18 marks ($4.28) per carton. Regular size cigarettes yield 15 to 16 marks — 50 cents or so less.

PX employees said an Army survey showed that between 35 and 40 per cent of all cigarettes sold recently in Army stores in Germany have been king-sized. The long variety accounts for only about 8 per cent of total sales in the U. S.

"The forward half sank almost immediately, but as we left, the after part was still afloat but sinking slowly," said First Engineer Dulcilio Santiago of Brooklyn, N. Y. The two big lifeboats, meanwhile had assembled the survivors — Capt. Utvik and 23 others in one that brought them to Ramsgate, and the other 13 in a Dover boat.

The Western Farmer, which sailed under the name Henry Lomb during the war, was on her way to Bremen, Germany, with a load of coal from Norfolk, Va. She was owned by the Western Navigation Co. of New York.

The survivors, soaked and covered with grease and oil, were taken to a local seamen's club and given hot drinks, food and dry clothing.

At another point off Britain's East Coast, a small British trawler, the 260-ton Magnolia, blew up and sank in seven seconds. Three of the crew were killed; eight were rescued.

Indiana Legion Post Sued For $444.44 By Man Shot In Pants

BROOKVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A blank charge from an American Legion cannon scorched the seats of his pants, Thomas Lee of Indianapolis charged in Franklin County Circuit Court yesterday.

He asked damages of $444.44 from Peter Fohl and Paul Milbourne, members of the Brookville American Legion post.

Lee said the Legionnaires fired the cannon in a parade at Indianapolis two years ago. He asserted he was only six inches from the muzzle, and the blast ruined his $20 trousers. He added it cost him $39 for medical treatment and he had to lay off work for a while.

Labor Member Gives Up Job Of Reforming Dutch Government

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands (AP)—L. A. Donker threw in the towel today after trying to form a new Dutch government for the past 16 days. He was the third to try since last June's elections.

Donker, Labor member of Parliament, had been asked by Queen Juliana to take over the task from L. J. M. Beel, of the Catholic People's party who also had given up after 16 days.

The first to try was Willem Drees. He kept at it for almost a month.

Grayling Convict Escapees Caught

LANSING (AP)—Two fugitives from a southern Michigan prison work camp near Grayling were recaptured early this morning when police stopped a taxicab for a minor traffic violation.

Police found the escapees, Daniel Bernard Bousha, 27, and Glenn Eldert, 28, both of Detroit, riding in the cab.

Robert Baldwin, 25, of Frederick, said the convicts forced him at gun point to drive them from Grayling to Lansing.

Baldwin was uninjured. The two escapees fled from a work gang yesterday afternoon after tying up two fellow trustees who had refused to go along in the escape. The work gang was stationed at the Higgins Lake State Park.

Democrats Bank On Labor Vote In Michigan Again

Mr. Truman won the election but he failed to carry Michigan. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee, had a plurality of 35,547. But this was more than offset by the 46,515 votes cast in Michigan for Henry A. Wallace, the left-wing Progressive nominee.

Plans for Gov. Stevenson's appearance in Grand Rapids were announced by Vincent O'Neill, Kent county Democratic chairman.

Gov. Stevenson's party will arrive in Grand Rapids by plane from Springfield, Ill., at 10 a. m. Labor Day.

Plans Made By CIO
CIO leaders have arranged for a big rally in downtown Grand Rapids with Gov. Stevenson scheduled to speak at 10:30 a. m. for 15 minutes.

Stevenson's plane is scheduled to leave Grand Rapids at 11 a. m. and arrive in Detroit at 12:30 p. m. He will address the Detroit Labor Day rally at 1 p. m.

Michigan Republican bigwigs mapped campaign strategy at a meeting in Detroit Wednesday. A limited program of debates with Democrats was approved. Party leaders agreed to take part in a television series over several weeks, catching GOP nominees with their opposite numbers on the Democratic ticket.

But Republican candidates decided other such exchanges would be on a highly selective basis.

Charles E. Potter, nominee for U. S. senator, said, "I have no hesitancy in debating the opposition but feel it is essential that I have time to plan and carry on my campaign."

Rally At Blaney Park
Republican candidates agreed to be on hand for a Rally Sept. 6 at Blaney Park in the Upper Peninsula.

GOP strategy also calls for a road show starting Sept. 8 with seven teams criss-crossing the state and reaching into every vil-cate there is not one word of truth in any of the stories alleged to have been published in the Swedish newspapers." He said the investigation was continuing.

The Swedish Foreign Office, meanwhile, had begun its own investigation. Stockholm dispatches said it wanted to know by what right Miss Truman's bodyguard was armed in Sweden, where even the police are traditionally unarmed.

The U. S. Secret Service, also traditionally, arms its agents whenever they are on duty—whether bodyguarding or trailing counterfeiter.

Leaves For Finland
The Swedish Foreign Office backed up Short. It said in a statement that the agent who reportedly stopped a photographer had simply said: "No pictures, please."

U. S. Ambassador Walton Butterworth said virtually the same thing. He cabled the State Department, quoting the special agent in charge of Miss Truman's bodyguard as saying about the City Hall incident:

"There was no discussion, no argument and no weapon was displayed at any time."

The 28-year-old Miss Truman, has left Sweden for Helsinki, Finland.

Nude Volunteer Model Routs Lady Artists

BELMONT, Calif. (AP)—Two Belmont ladies, both amateur artists, were quietly painting a clump of trees yesterday when an ancient car pulled up and a man popped out.

He quickly stripped to the raw and struck a model's pose in front of their easels.

"We did our best to ignore him," the two women later told police.

They continued to paint. He continued to mug. The women—strictly landscape painters—packed up and left.

U. P. Counties Create Agency

Promotion of the interests of the entire Upper Peninsula in general, and its own area in particular, is the aim of an organization composed of representatives of six counties in the western Upper Peninsula.

The organization—which includes Keweenaw, Houghton, Baraga, Ontonagon, Iron and Gogebic counties—will be known as the Western Area Association. It was formed at a recent meeting in Land O'Lakes, Wisconsin.

Of immediate interest to the group, and its support to the projects was contained in a series of resolutions to be sent to proper officials and agencies, are the following:

1. Improvement of highway M-64 in Ontonagon county for the convenience of workmen traveling to the White Pine development project.
2. Construction of a western access road to the Porcupine Mountain State Park.
3. Better ferry service to the Upper Peninsula from Lower Michigan via the Frankfort-Menominee route.
4. Better water transportation from the Copper Country to Isle Royale.
5. Additional plane service between western U. P. counties and the metropolitan centers of Detroit, Lansing and Chicago.
6. Construction of a bridge across the Straits of Mackinac.

Representatives of Chambers of Commerce, civic groups, service organizations and municipal and county units were represented at the gathering in Land O'Lakes. O. F. Knoebber of Houghton, manager of the Copper Country Vacationist League, was elected to serve as chairman. The executive committee includes, Walter F. Olson, Gogebic; Ben Graboski, Baraga; Fritz Weis, Ontonagon; Harry Mertins, Iron; Knoebber and a Keweenaw representative still to be selected.

"The aim of the association," Knoebber said in a letter to the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, "is principally to promote the interest in our area for a common understanding of mutual problems and to obtain development of activities beneficial to the six county region without detriment to the Upper Peninsula as a whole."

The Bureau will aid the association in attempting to reach its goals, George E. Bishop, secretary-manager, said, "since anything that benefits the western area counties will be of lasting good to the economy of the entire Upper Peninsula."

French Ban Raft Of Chicago Man

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—Safety-minded French officials say an adventuresome Chicago youth and his crew of three aren't going to sail from this port on pingpong balls.

The maritime authorities have ruled that 26-year-old Richard Miller's raft Ken-tooki—which floats on 75,000 pingpong balls in steel drums—is not a fit craft for his dream voyage across the Mediterranean.

Their decision appeared to have sunk the Miller expedition before it really got started.

Plans for the non-scientific excursion were laid this summer in the bars of the Paris Latin Quarter. Fellow students donated most of the pingpong balls. A former British Royal Air Force pilot, Michael Jones, another American, Don Kinder, 26, of Jessup, Md., and a slim 23-year-old British nurse, Muriel Grand, volunteered as a crew.

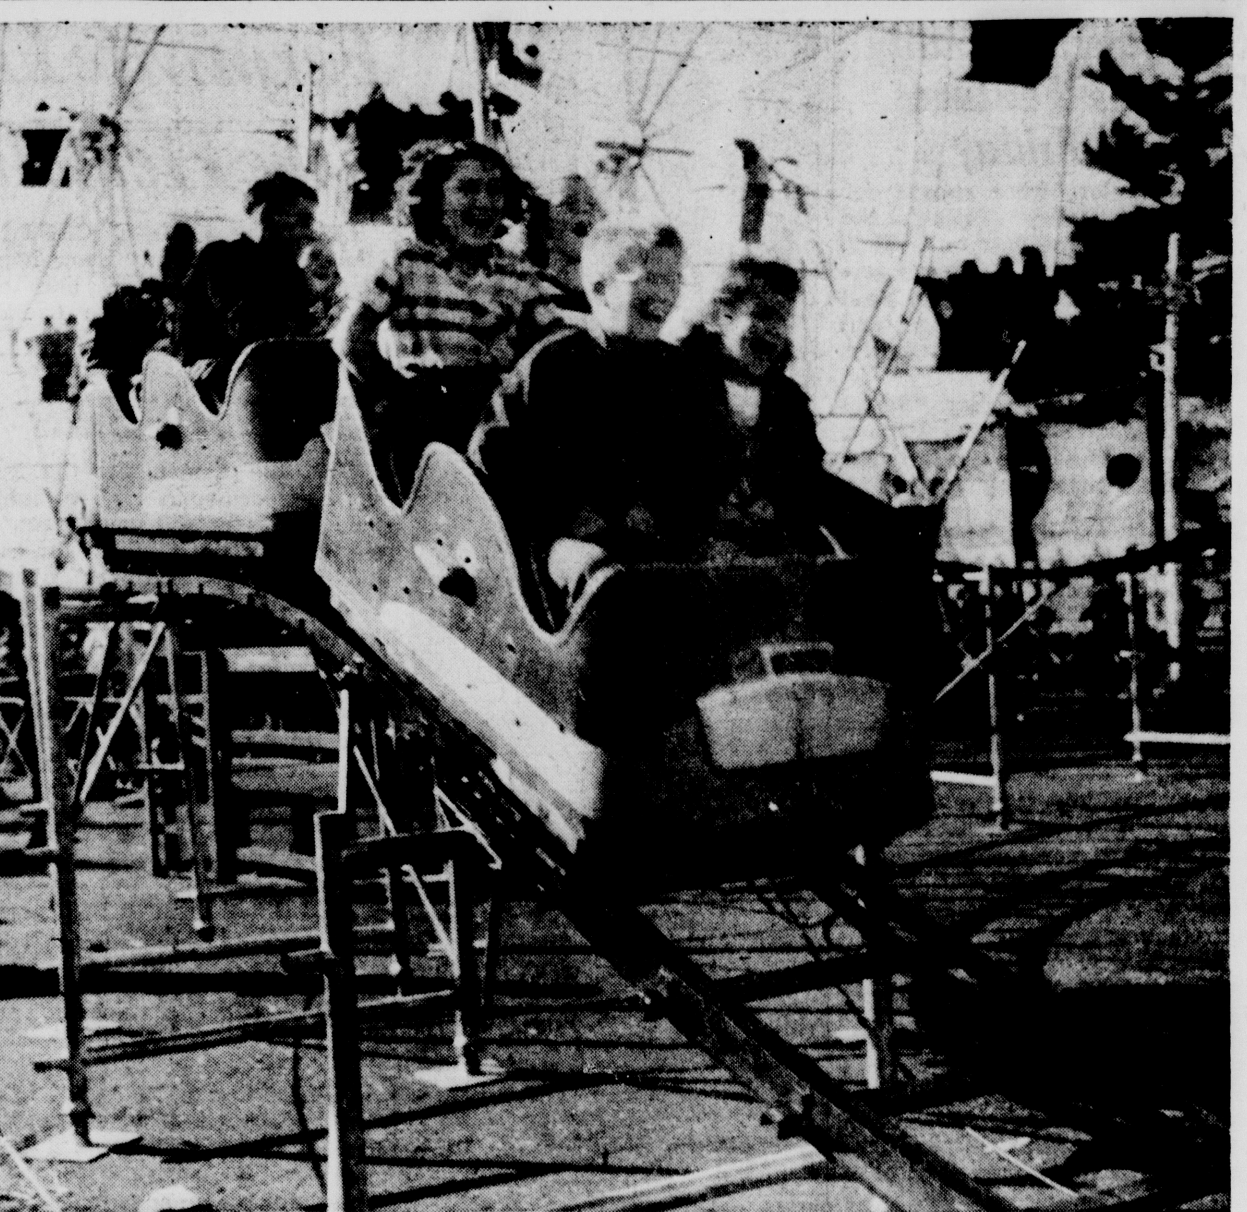

The four bobbed down the Rhone River from Lyon this week. Two then quit the expedition. Undaunted, Miller and Jones were rounding up more volunteers when the French officials put a halt to the venture.

Old Gun Kills Boy

MUSKEGON (AP)—A 13 year old Muskegon boy was killed yesterday while playing with an old gun from which the trigger and bolt had been removed. Police said the boy, Larry Harken, evidently discharged the weapon by pulling the trigger pin back and cocking the rifle. The bullet struck him in the head.

Cost Of Living Goes Up Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living as measured by the government reached a new record today, bringing a three cent hourly pay hike to more than one million auto workers.

The newest consumer's price index, reflecting the cost of food, clothing, shelter and other consumer items as of July 15, moved to 190.8 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

It was 1.2 points higher than the June index and 5 per cent higher than the level of January, 1951.

The increase continued a steady, five months' climb in the cost of living for moderate income city families.

Harvester Company Workers On Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—The independent Farm Equipment - United Electrical Workers Union called a strike last night at 10 International Harvester Co. plants in three states after contract negotiations broke off on a bitter note.

The union called 25,000 workers off the job, declaring, "The company has asked for a fight and is going to get a hell of a licking."

The company in turn accused the union of "irresponsible leadership."

The union had served notice of a walkout if a new contract was not signed when the old one—already extended 60 days—expired at midnight.

Plants involved in the dispute are at Canton, East Moline, Rock Island, Rock Falls, Ill., four in the Chicago area, and at Richmond, Ind., and Louisville, Ky. The company manufactures farm equipment.

Heavy equipment, including howitzers and jeeps, were scheduled to be dropped during the aerial display in which paratroopers of the famed 82nd Airborne Division planned to take part.

Wall Street

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK (AP)—Advancing railroads provided just about all of the interest today in a slightly higher stock market.

Some rails added between 1 and 2 points while the rest were fractionally higher or lower. On balance the major group was up. A rundown of major divisions showed this:

Steels lower, motors steady; rubbers higher, radio-television higher; utilities higher, nonferrous metals steady, chemicals steady, oils mixed, air lines mixed, building materials unchanged to higher.

Among higher stocks were Seaboard Railroad, Baltimore & Ohio Southern Pacific, Westinghouse Electric, American Telephone, Goodyear and Philco.

Lower were Southern Railway, Dome Mines, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, International Harvester, and National Distillers.

The market yesterday was slightly higher, as it was on Tuesday, a sort of consolidation after the sharp fall of Monday.

Eisenhower Takes Middle Of Road; Warns Of Leftism

servant of the people and not their master."

Dishonesty Grows
When one party has been too long in power, Eisenhower said, it becomes so sure of itself it does not have to uproot the first sign of dishonesty in government.

Instead, he added, it "goes along and thinks never mind, that it will be all right."

The general called for devotion of the nation's energies to peace, and "not to the sterile, negative, stupid business of war or preparation for war."

In his prepared text, the GOP nominee said the present administration is one which "with new faces and names is seeking to perpetuate itself" through election of his Democratic opponent for the presidency, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

But in the address he made there was no mention of that. He did not, in the first place, refer to Stevenson by name.

Confers With Governors
In calling for a middle course, he said it must be assumed that all Americans accept such social gains as old age security, insurance against unemployment, decent housing and better education facilities.

"Let's call those things just a solid floor that keeps all of us from falling into the pit of disaster," he said.

In advance of his speech last night there were these developments in Boise:

1. Eisenhower conferred with the Republican governors of nine Western states. The general called it a very satisfactory discussion of problems of the area "and what we believe has to be done quickly to get this country the future it deserves."

2. Eisenhower met with a group of GOP workers and urged them to campaign for a party victory in November with the same sort of zeal the Allies showed in driving Hitler into oblivion. He also likened

Wage Increases Worry Britain

LONDON (AP) — Leaders of Britain's powerful Trades Union Congress (TUC) have warned workers that widely demanded general wage increases might bring economic catastrophe by making the nation's exports too expensive for world markets.

The warning was issued last night by the TUC's General Council in its annual report to the eight million members of unions affiliated with the congress.

It came at a time when many unions are demanding pay boosts of up to two pounds ($5.60) a week to meet the rising cost of living.

So far, Prime Minister Winston Churchill's government has turned down these demands. It claims the cost of living will remain steady unless widespread wage increases drive costs up.

Although the TUC is known as the backbone of Britain's out-of-office Labor party, the General Council's report, in effect, agreed with the government. The TUC had similarly supported wage hold-downs of the previous Labor government.

"We face the danger today that higher costs may force up the prices of our exports as to make them unsaleable," the congress report declared.

The report said greater productivity was the only solution to Britain's economic difficulties. To achieve an expansion of production and trade, the union leaders suggested the government should maintain or re-introduce controls for the allocation of scarce materials. They also advocated further transfer of manpower and materials between industries.

Death Takes Last Of 4 Robbers At Grass Lake Bank

JACKSON (AP)—The last survivor of the four desperadoes in the infamous $80,000 Grass Lake bank robbery of 1920 died in Southern Michigan prison of a heart attack today.

He was William Tex Harris, 72, member of a robber gang which plundered the bank, killed deputy sheriff, Harry Worden, and was captured by a posse all in the same day.

Like the other three, Harris died behind bars while serving life. He had been in prison 32 years.

The holdup of the Farmers State Bank at Grass Lake ten miles east of here on July 30, 1920, and the resultant posse pursuit and gunfight was one of the most sensational incidents in Michigan's crime annals.

Each of the robbers was given concurrent life sentence by the late Circuit Judge J. A. Parkinson for bank robbery and murder.

All of Harris' companions — James Stowe, Walter Wilson and Dan Rosenberg — preceded him in death at the prison.

On a number of occasions Harris asked a new trial. He got a stock answer from Judge Parkinson—"Worden is still dead."

Tips For New York Vice Quiz Traced To Jilted Girl Friend

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedienne Martha Raye's former secretary was identified in newspaper reports today as the jilted girl friend who reportedly sent vice probes into cafe society circles after Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke.

Jelke, 22, heir to a multi-million dollar margarine fortune, was charged last week with compulsory prostitution as a city-wide crack-down on $500-a-night call-girls reached its peak.

Mysterious Miss X
New York City newspapers today said that Patricia Ward, 19, gave police the information that led to Jelke's arrest. The reports said the pretty blonde is the mysterious "Miss X" who has been held in $10,000 bail as a material witness and testified this week before a Grand Jury.

The district attorney's office could not be reached for comment on the published reports.

Miss Ward was hospitalized May 21 after swallowing a quantity of sleeping pills while staying overnight at Miss Raye's Hampshire House suite. Police said the girl had written a note indicating she was despondent over a broken romance.

Jelke has blamed his arrest on "a disgruntled female who feels she was jilted."

Miss Raye, who is not involved in the vice probe, said last May that she invited Miss Ward to remain overnight after they and Miss Raye's husband, night club proprietor Nick Condos, spent an evening out.

Ding Dong Daddy With Wife No. 16, Sued By His Spouse Of 1951

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Francis H. Van Wie, known as the "Ding Dong Daddy of the D Line," who tuned up with a new wife last week, has been sued for divorce by a previous spouse. The action boosts the 66-year-old former streetcar conductor's marital adventures to an apparent 16.

The suit, filed by Mrs. Martha Van Wie, 67, of Long Beach, came to light yesterday. She said they were married in Yuma, Ariz., in February, 1951, and separated the following June.

Van Wie's newest bride is the former Mrs. Amelia Pritchard, 73, whom he married recently in Las Vegas, Nev. She locked him out when she learned of his history. During Van Wie's bigamy trial he said he reckoned his marriage total at 14.

Underneath the Bough

By Edna G. Robins

Copyright 1952 by NEA Service, Inc.

"WHAT'S up now?" Harry Weston had come home to find his wife radiant in her rose-colored party dress. A general air of festivity pervaded the house.

"No, not exactly," Louise replied smiling mischievously. "Just a little surprise party."

Harry was mystified, but not until his wife had served the dessert at dinner did Louise let her family into the secret.

"Aunt Ella is responsible for the celebration. I had a letter from her this morning from San Francisco. She thanked us for entertaining her so kindly, and then she wrote—well, I'd better read you what she said."

Louise rose and took the letter from the mantelpiece. Opening it to the second page, she began to read.

"Louise, dear, you're my only relative, so of course most of my little savings will go to you. But I don't want you to have to wait till I am gone to enjoy them. I have much more than I need for my wants. And so I am enclosing a check for $10,000 which you are to use in whatever way you think will bring you the most happiness."

There was a general gasp of astonishment. Then each of her listeners tried to make helpful suggestions for disposing of the money.

"Gee, with that we could get an automobile, I should think," Ted offered hopefully.

"Oh, Mom, couldn't we go away this summer on a real trip?" Eleanor so expressed her longings.

"We could put in a new furnace with some of the money," Harry spoke slowly. He was waiting to see if Louise would turn the check over to him. That was his idea of the proper thing for a wife to do, and yet he hesitated to tell her so.

Louise listened with a serene and non-committal air to what they said. No one suggested that she spend the money just on herself.

The next morning Louise went out soon after breakfast. She went to the bank and opened her first account. Her pleasure in it was marred by a certain regret that she should have had to get the money as a gift. Harry had started an account for Ted years ago, but he had never considered that his wife needed one.

After leaving the bank Louise took a trolley to New York. She returned late for lunch, satisfied with her efforts.

Kudzu Vine Grows Into Living Room While Family's Gone

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Mrs. Jo Farmer's living room had a jungle motif she didn't plan on when she returned home yesterday from a month on Cape Cod.

The huge kudzu vine which almost covers her home found its way through a slit near a window and grew into the living room.

She found long tentacles entwining picture frames, the piano and other pieces of furniture.

When she planted the vine 25 years ago she was told it would grow a foot a day.

No Reconciliation

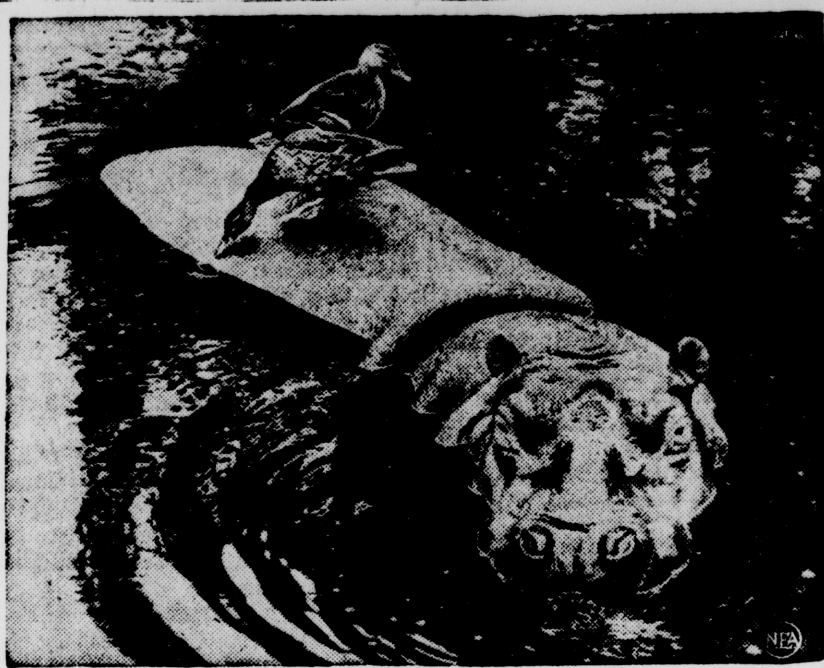

HOLLYWOOD — Aly Khan is scheduled to fly tonight to Chicago after spending several days here visiting with his estranged wife, actress Rita Hayworth.

There was no word of a reconciliation. They have been seen in public numerous times in recent days, and yesterday lunched together near Rita's studio.

at heart. She hoped it wouldn't take all the pleasure out of her work to know that she was upsetting him.

"I know it's what Aunt Ella wanted me to do," she explained. "And it's only fair to her to give it a trial. If it doesn't work out, I can always give it up."

Steel Mills Return To Full Production

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, (AP) — The steel mills are finally getting back into full production. And the government is still trying today to pick up the pieces of the costly strike. Steel prices were officially raised Tuesday as the strike settlement nearly a month ago provided. And steel users got permission to buy steel a still more expensive way if they need it badly. This conversion steel will cost them even more than the new high prices formally approved by the office of price stabilization. But buyers of conversion steel won't have to charge it off to the regular quota the government allots them. The aim is to end as quickly as possible the unemployment in industries like auto making where the steel shortage still pinches. Steel production this week will top two million tons for the first time since before the strike. The auto makers — who were leaders in asking the government to relax its curbs on conversion steel—are still falling behind in production of cars. But dealers report there has been no great rush of buyers for cars, and the prices of some used models will be delayed, the auto makers report, but it's still anyone's guess as to whether the strike-curtailed output of 1952 models wasn't just about as much as the public wanted to buy. Another effect of the steel strike however, has yet to be felt. And that is the push the hike in wages and prices could give to the cost of living in general.

Jane Wyman Wants Only Happy Films; No Tear-Jerkers

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — No more tearjerkers for Jane Wyman. From now on, she wants happy pictures. This may sound like biting the hand that has fed her very well. After all, it was the weepers that established her as a top Hollywood star. A downbeat yarn named "The Lost Weekend" first showed producers that she could really act. She demonstrated she could handle character roles deftly when she played Ma Baxter in "The Yearling."

Public Had Enough

As a plain deaf girl in "Johnny Belinda," she won one of those gold things that the academy hands out annually. Last year she snagged her third Oscar nomination with "The Blue Veil," which was strictly a four-handkerchief epic.

"But audiences don't want to see pictures like those right now," she protested as we lolled beside her pale blue swimming pool. (Some lolling!) "They have enough troubles of their own, without going to see more problems on the screen. That's why I want to sing and laugh in the movies I make."

"Besides, it's a lot easier on me. I can breeze right through a happy picture. But 'The Blue Veil' was 17 weeks of hard work. It took a lot out of me. So did 'Belinda.' I was 16 weeks on that, but I spent months seeing films about instructing deaf people and learning how to act like one. 'The Yearling' took almost a year. At the end of the picture, we actually used the deer that had been in the first scenes. It WAS a yearling."

Miss Wyman is all hepped up about her new picture with Bing Crosby, "Just for You." It's the kind of a movie she wants to be doing in the future. But I suspect the thing she likes best about it is that she gets ample opportunity to sing.

Giddy About Singing

The gal is as giddy about her new singing career as a starlet is about her first contract. She ripped open a newly-arrived copy of Variety to check the progress of her latest record with Croz. "Zing a Little Zong."

This singing kick started when the Groaner encouraged her to do a record or two after they appeared together in "Here Comes the Groom." Since then, she has gone wild, recording right and left and singing at the drop of an arpeggio, whatever that is. Now she even plans to hit the road.

"I was supposed to open in Chicago next month and go on to the Roxy in New York with my own stage show," she said. "But the date came too soon, and I have to do a picture at Columbia. But I intend to do it next year, when my film commitments are squared away. Then I'll go on to play the Palladium in London."

Schuster Named Battalion News Officer At Camp

The Manistique National Guard Company was the first unit of the Upper Peninsula engineers battalion to arrive at Camp Grayling last Saturday, it is reported by Sgt. Al Schuster who has been appointed public information non-commissioned officer of the battalion.

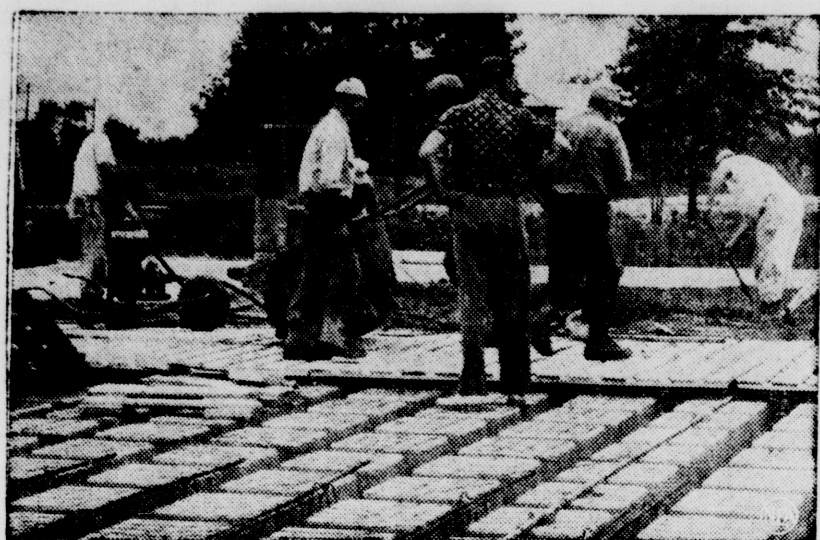

The Manistique company, which left here at 6 a. m. Saturday, arrived at the encampment at 3 p. m. Sgt. Schuster, who joined the local company last Thursday, reported that the first official orders to the U. P. unit went to Company D from Manistique. Top rated troops, he said, were ordered to build a log and gravel stairway to battalion headquarters situated on a hill near the troop tents. The unit completed the job in four hours.

Over 8,000 Michigan National Guardsmen are stationed at Grayling for two weeks of rough and tough battle training.

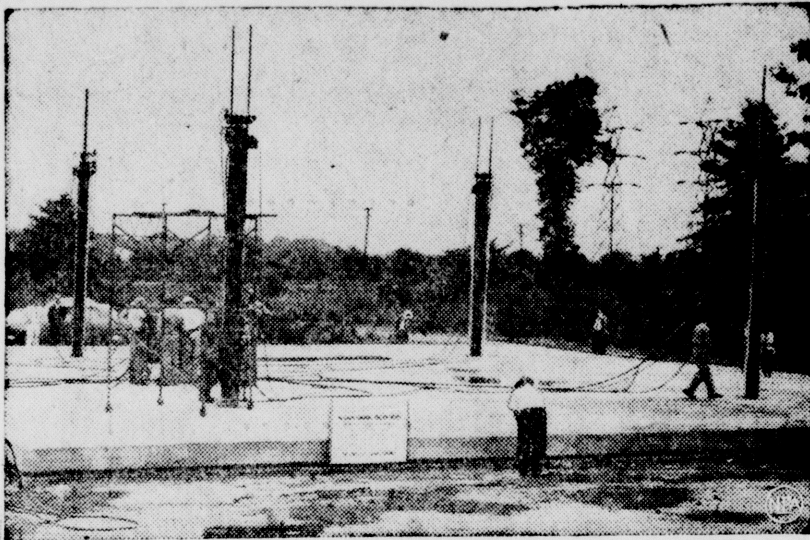

Before leaving for Grayling Schuster was employed as a news writer in Manistique.

Adhesive and medicated plaster was invented in 1848 by a Denham, Mass., physician, John P. Maynard, who dissolved gun cotton in sulphuric ether, obtaining a fluid brushed on the skin and covered with cotton strips.

Revolutionary Building Technique Literally 'Raises the Roof'

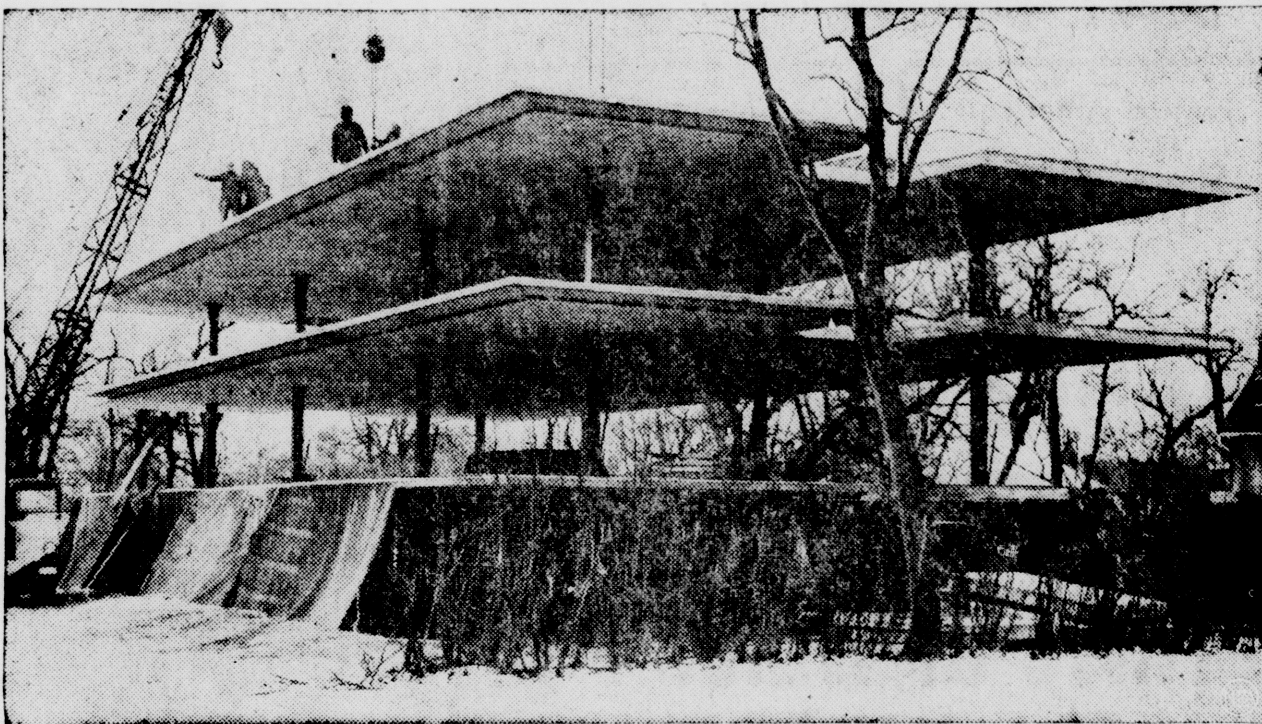

A 200-ton concrete roof is poured right on top of the floor for a Cleveland, Ohio, industrial warehouse.

After roof dries for two weeks, four hydraulic jacks begin to lift it off the ground and into position.

A revolutionary building technique of laying concrete roofs on the ground and raising them into position, rather than erecting the building first and then putting on the roof, is cutting building costs from Toronto to Texas. As much as two weeks' construction time can be saved. These pictures show the main steps used to lay and raise the roof on a Cleveland, Ohio, industrial warehouse and a Toronto, Canada apartment building. A concrete floor is poured. Then, with fiber glass plastic molds in between, the roof is poured right on top of it. After a two-week drying period, four hydraulic jacks are set up and builders literally "raise the roof." The new method, developed by the Institute of Inventive Research in San Antonio, Tex., cut weight in half through the unique use of plastic molds. More than $500,000 is said to have been saved this way in constructing the Lockbourne Air Base dormitories in Columbus, O.

Roof in place over a second-floor laid and raised in the same way for a Toronto, Canada, apartment house. Both roof and floor are held in place and supported by steel columns.

Road Board Buys Trucks

Purchase of five Federal trucks and four dump boxes from Specker Super Service, Marquette, was approved by the Schoolcraft County Road Commission at a special meeting Monday night following a review of re-advertised bids.

Delivery of the trucks and dump boxes to the road board was made Tuesday. Total cost of the equipment was $16,600.90.

Bid requests, re-advertised two weeks ago, were opened at a meeting last week.

Purchase of five Federal trucks and four dump boxes from the Marquette dealer last winter was blocked by a temporary injunction obtained by Manistique auto dealers who charged that the wording of the bid specifications was vague. The temporary injunction was made permanent last spring by Judge Herbert W. Runnels of Sault Ste. Marie, who in his written decision pointed out that purchase of trucks could have been made on a re-advertisement basis.

The Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors also recommended at a meeting last spring that the road board re-advertise for bids.

Harold McNamara, chairman of the road commission, reported yesterday that no decision had been reached on appealing the Circuit Court decision to the Michigan Supreme Court.

The road commission also took no action on purchasing four trucks on which bids were sought several weeks ago. This request for bids was separate from the re-advertised bid notice.

British Like Yank Soldiers

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Campbell of London, England, and Orlando, Fla., have left for the West Coast after a several day stay at the home of John A. Campbell, 805 Minnesota avenue, father of Keith. At Redwood City in California they will visit the Axel Berglund, parents of Mrs. Campbell, they travel to Orlando for a short stay before returning to England.

For the past two years the couple have been in London where Mr. Campbell is assistant director of civilian personnel for the U. S. Air Force. So pleasant has been their stay that they are returning for a four-year period.

While away, Campbell has traveled in nearly every country on the continent on official business.

Foodstuffs are far from plentiful in England, Campbell said. For example, each person is limited to one egg a week and to a very moderate amount of meat. However, he said that he has commissary and PX privileges so that they have all they need at all times.

The Britons are kindly, hospitable and generally have a warm feeling for Americans, Campbell said, contradicting an idea that has gained prevalence in this country. He said there are some instances where bragging has caused unpleasantness but that generally the feeling toward us is good.

Signs and harrangues on the "Go Home Yanks" are Communist inspired carried and delivered. Upon occasion they have even resorted to use of public address systems mounted on autos.

Benjamin Franklin projected the first subscription library in what later became the United States.

City Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hilgart and Mr. and Mrs. Ruppel of Sheboygan, Wis., were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ottenhoff. Mrs. Hilgart is a cousin of Mr. Ottenhoff.

Edward Ottenhoff Receives Degree

Edward Ottenhoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ottenhoff, has graduated from the University of Michigan with a degree in Mechanical Engineering.

He has accepted a position with the Budd Wheel Co., in Philadelphia, Pa.

Although the average American drinks less than half a gallon of water daily, domestic, agricultural and industrial consumption brings the per capita average of water used every day in the United States to 1,100 gallons, says the National Geographic Society.

Clergyman Collects Hatpins As Hobby

EDGEWOOD, R. I.—(AP)—Three years ago, the Rev. Earl E. Story, D. D., didn't own a single hatpin; now he has more than 700.

Story, minister of the Methodist Tabernacle here, was told by a former parishioner to throw away four hatpins she donated for a sale at his former Newport Church if nobody wanted them. There were no takers and from that time on, Story was a hatpin collector.

The ladies of the church donated 21 more hatpins. He displayed the 25 in a hobby show and suddenly found his collection boosted to more than 100.

He's getting some rare pins now. One has a perfume box within its head. There's a His-Hers combination of matching hatpin and stickpin. Some are eye-catchers with heads bobbing on springs. One is capped with a button from the Continental Army. Some are gem-studded.

Trapping Proves Profitable Hobby

Jack Pavlot, 624 N. 10th St., body man at a local garage, makes eradication of predators a hobby and he's plenty proficient at it.

Sunday he set traps for a couple of coyotes in the vicinity of the Cedar River in Menominee County. Tuesday night he had both of them and yesterday he collected $35 in bounties, $20 on the female and $15 on the male.

Pavlot's hobby provides him with lots of fun, exercise and proves profitable, too. In the spring of '51 he dug out a litter of eight red fox.

This spring he rounded up a number of litters, the total young fox taken by him numbering 27.

Sheikh Of Dervishes
Loses Title, Lands

DAMASCUS, Syria—As part of the reform policy of Premier General Fawzi Selo, the Syrian government recently abolished the title of Sheikh of the Dancing Dervishes, deprived him of control of the sect's properties and turned their mosque into a public hospital.

The sheikh headed the remnants—about 60 members in Damascus and Aleppo—of the Mawlawi sect of dervishes (religious fraternities) which was powerful in Turkey before its abolition by Kamel Ataturk who confiscated its properties.

Among the Mawlawis, the zikr, main devotional exercise, consists of a monotonous chant accompanied by a slow, whirling movement with eyes closed and arms extended. The ceremony continues until the participants fall into a cataplectic state.

Mail Flood Invites
Corporal In Korea
To Visit 25 Girls

WITH 25TH DIVISION, Korea (P)—Cpl. Ray Bohn of St. Louis, Mo., is due to be rotated in September from the famed Wolfhound Infantry Regiment but he wonders if he will get home by Christmas.

The reason: Back in June he wrote a dozen newspapers asking for mail. He was deluged with about 100 letters a day and from them he has found 25 girls friends who want him to visit them on his way to St. Louis from the Pacific Coast.

Bohn is studying maps and plans to visit all of them except a girl in Omaha, which he says is too far off his route.

BIG CAR ACTION—A fleet of big car auto racers zip by the finish line in this action shot taken at the State Fair track yesterday afternoon. A large crowd attended the racing program which was rated the best ever presented here. Virtually all track records were broken by the 11-car field, dominated by the big Offenhausers. Mac McHenry of Wichita, Kan., won the 10-lap feature. (Daily Press Photo)

McHenry Wins Feature As Big Cars Set Track Marks

Mac McHenry, Wichita, Kan., veteran speed merchant, toolled his red King Offenhauser into first place in the feature 10-lap big car auto race at State Fair track yesterday, nipping Herschel Wagner's Lawhon Special with a tremendous burst of speed on the last turn.

A crowd of 2500 saw the IMCA sponsored program in which virtually all track records were shattered. A heavy morning rain dampened the track to perfect driving condition for the roaring speedsters.

Fastest Time
McHenry, whose qualifying time of 26.18 seconds for the half-mile dirt oval was also the fastest of the day, had a battle on his hands all the way in the feature. Caught in third place on the first, McHenry hung behind Wagner and Don Branson—in another swift Offenhauser—through the early laps and then poured the coal to his screaming Offy to catch Branson. On the 10th lap Wagner fought off McHenry's bid on the first turn but couldn't match the Offy's speed on the final curve and the Wichita pilot roared down the stretch to nip the early leader by a scant yard at the finish.

New Record

McHenry's time of 5:36.8 was a new 10-lap record for the track. Announcer Jim Mullins revealed. Hank Nykaza of Chicago, a late entry, raced his B. & B. Special to victory over McHenry and a field of six in the second event on the program, but he could do no better than fifth in the rugged feature race.

Wagner had rocketed his Lawhon Special to victory in the Australian Pursuit feature by lapping Lowell Blume's Studebaker at the wire.

Summary:
Inaugural dash (five laps)—Terry Nykaza, Chicago; second, Mac McHenry, Wichita, Kan.;

third, Lowell Blume, Linton, Ind. Time—2:22.02

Speedway dash (five laps)—HerHershel Wagner, Kansas City, Mo.; second, Milly Richardson, St. Paul, Minn.; third, Fritz Tegmeier, Elgin, Ill. Time—2:26.6

American Triumph dash (five laps)—Blume; second, Harry Burns, Minneapolis, Minn.; third, Keith Saylor, Macomb, Ill. Time—2:29.3

International invitational (three laps)—Don Branson, Lexington, Ky.; second, Blume; third, Burns; fourth, Saylor; fifth, Richardson; sixth, George Petit, Chicago. Time—3:29.53 Feature race (ten laps)—McHenry; second, Wagner; third, Branson; fourth, Bus Luce, Russellville, Ky.; fifth, Nykaza; sixth, Tegmeier; seventh, Fred Lamber, Davenport, Ia.; eighth, Saylor; ninth, Richardson; tenth, Blume. Time—5:36.8.

Kocsis Putters Around To Get Back In Golf Groove

DETROIT — What do you do when your putting game is off? Chuck Kocsis, one of the nation's leading amateur golfers, simply switches to another putter. Chuck can keep switching for a long time—he owns 37 putters of almost every breed known to the golfing world.

"When my putting seems sick, switching to another putter is the best treatment I've ever found," says Kocsis, known for his putting skill.

"I never make up my mind what putter to use in a tournament until it starts. I take along three or four and sometimes use a different one on each round."

He used a light blade putter in the 1951 National Open and came in with the low amateur score. But for the Masters tournament at Augusta this spring he used a heavy mallet putter. Again he was low amateur.

His putters include blades, mallets, goose-necks, imports from Scotland, home-made ones, wooden shafts, steel shafts, aluminum shafts.

One putter has an ivory inset from a billiard ball. Another has a collapsible handle. There is even one left-handed putter. Chuck is righthanded but he was a lefty as a child and switches back for an occasional game.

Chuck, 38 now, was Big Ten champ. National Collegiate champ and twice a member of Walker

Chuck Kocsis Surrounded by Favorite Clubs

Cup teams. He won six Michigan amateur titles and three Michigan Open crowns, two victories coming while still in high school.

"Kocsis prefers wooden shafted putters. But he admits having equal success with metal shafts. He is partial to blade putters."

"I guess putters are just a hobby with me, and I switch on the latest whim," says Kocsis. "After all, good putting is mostly in your head anyway."

Coe Heads 16 Golfers In National Amateur

By BOB MYERS

SEATTLE (AP)—Sixteen survivors of play, headed by former Champion Charlie Coe and such strong challengers as Walker Cup player Jimmy McHale, sailor Gene Littler and crooner Don Cherry, head into another double round of match play today in the Men's National Amateur Golf Championship.

Coe, the 1949 champion, and McHale are familiar names in the national classic.

Ward Beaten
Littler and Cherry earned their way into prominence by producing the two most resounding triumphs of the fifth round yesterday afternoon.

Littler, 22-year-old former junior star, with perhaps the most brilliant play thus far in the tournament, defeated the British amateur champion, Harvie Ward Jr.

Cherry, 28, from Garden City, N. Y., well known in the East as a professional singer, made it another year of sorrow for Frank Stranahan, the perennial contender from Toledo.

Cherry, who has played without acclaim in three other nationals, defeated the handsome Ohio strong-boy, 3 and 1.

Stranahan, twice British champion, has never won the American crown.

Cools Off

Arnold Blum, Macon, Ga., a hot throat, cooled off before the golf of Paul Johanson, Seattle. Johanson came out of a tree, literally, on the ninth fairway—to have the hole—and go on to win, 1 up.

Ray Billows, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a three-time runner-up like Stranahan, will have to wait a year to try again. Johanson beat him, too, 5 and 3.

Johnny Dawson, Palm Springs, Calif., missed seven putts of four feet or less to run an otherwise beautiful game and lose to Edward Meiser Jr., Willoughby, O., 1 up.

"As Easter Goes So Goes Cleveland"

Easter And Indians Climb

By RALPH RODEN
Sports Writer

Ever since Luke Easter became a regular on the Cleveland Indians it has been said, "As Easter goes so go the Indians."

Cleveland's pennant hopes have waxed and waned the past two seasons coinciding with the rise or decline of Easter's fortunes at the plate. A trick knee more than lack of punch in the clutch has been responsible for Easter's failure to deliver the goods in the past.

His value to the Indians is clearly demonstrated by his performance this year. Big Luke is hot right now and so are the Indians.

Yanks Trounced

Cleveland, with Easter playing a leading roll, swamped the Boston Red Sox, 18-8, yesterday and pulled to within a game of the American League's front-running New York Yankees. The Yankees were humiliated, 12-3, by the Chicago White Sox. Philadelphia tripped Detroit, 4-3, in the circuit's only night game. A night game between St. Louis and Washington was rained out.

Brooklyn moved seven games ahead of the New York Giants in the National League chase, downing Cincinnati, 6-3. The Giants and Chicago Cubs were rained out. In other games, Philadelphia tamed Pittsburgh, 3-1, and St. Louis trounced Boston, 9-2, in a game called in the eighth inning because of rain.

The Indians could take over the lead today with the help of Chicago.

Sport Shorties

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Washington's Redskins face the Los Angeles Rams, champions of professional football, in a charity football game tonight in Memorial Coliseum. It is the seventh pre-season exhibition game between these teams, each having won three, and every game has been a crowd drawer. About 85,000 are expected for tonight's clash.

SALEM, N. H. (AP)—Apprentice jockey Anthony Despirito of Lawrence, Mass., booted home six winners yesterday at Rockingham Park to bring his total for the season to 200-tops for the nation.

BOSTON (AP)—Third baseman Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians was wondering today whether he still has a steady job. Utility infielder Hank Majeski, who replaced the slump-ridden Rosen in yesterday's game against the Red Sox, came up with four hits, three singles and a double, in five tries.

DUNCAN, Okla. (AP)—Ned Pettigrew, 71, oldtime baseball figure, died at his home here today. He was manager of the Oklahoma City Club in the Western League in 1925 and was credited with discovering Carl Hubbell, the southpaw pitching great of the New York Giants.

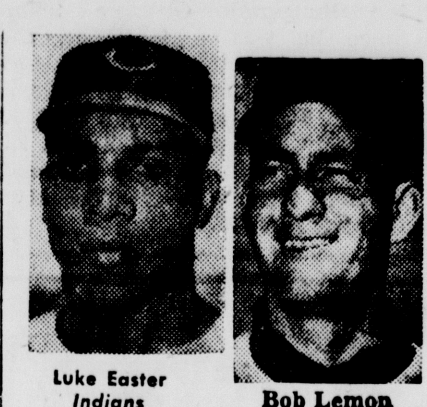

GROUNDING — It was a game of catch-as-catch-can with the Senators' Ken Wood making a wild grab for first base and Ferris Fain of the Athletics right after him in a run-down play. Umpire Jim Duffy ruled Wood safe. (NEA Photo)

A Cleveland victory over Boston and a Chicago triumph over New York would enable the Indians to move out in front by one percentage point.

Indians Travel
Cleveland enters the crucial stage of its 12-game road trip tomorrow when it invades Yankee Stadium for a two game series. Easter, Ray Boone and Larry Doby were the ringleaders in Cleveland's rout of the Red Sox. Easter batted in six runs on a grand slam homer and two singles. Boone sent six mates across on a homer and two singles and Doby batted in a pair of runs on his 27th homer and two singles.

Since July 15, when Easter rejoined the Indians after a short exile to Indianapolis of the American Association, the Tribe has won 24 games and lost 15, a .615 pace.

During this span Easter has whacked out 26 hits in 78 times at bat, a .333 average, driven in 28 runs and clouted eight homers. Before he departed for Indianapolis he was hitting .208 and had driven in 33 runs and connected for only 11 homers in 63 games.

Ten Run Inning
The Indians spotted the Red Sox a 3-0 lead in two innings before they lowered the boom with a 10-run uprising in the third against Maury McDermott, Ray Scarborough and Willard Nixon. Easter climaxed the rally with his jackpot wallop. Easter and Boone singled home a pair of runs apiece in the fifth and the Tribe closed out their scoring with four more in the seventh on Doby's homer and Boone's three-run blast. Bob Lemon gave up 15 hits in notching his 15th victory.

Chicago also came up with a big inning to beat the Yanks. The White Sox scored six runs in the third inning to wipe out a 2-1 deficit and that was more than Saul Rogovin needed to hang up his 11th triumph.

Haddix Wins Debut
Carl Scheib drove home two runs and scored the winning run in the A's triumph over Detroit. Scheib singled home two runs in the seventh to tie the score at 3-3 and then pranced over the plate on one-baggers by Pete Suder and Ferris Fain.

Brooklyn found veteran Ken Raffensberger for 11 hits and all of their runs in less than four innings.

Connie Ryan was the big wheel in Philadelphia's triumph over Pittsburgh. Ryan clouted his 12th homer, walked three times and stole two bases in posting his 10th conquest.

Harvey (The Kitten) Haddix turned in a five-hitter in his major league debut for the Cards. Haddix, awaiting discharge from the Army, coasted home after the Cards jumped on Lew Burdette for six runs in the second inning on three doubles, three singles and two walks.

Tigers Lose To Athletics By-- You Guessed It-- 4-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Now that the Detroit Tigers appear destined for the American League

Fred Hatfield
Walt Drope

cellar, the big question is whether they will set a tough luck record for the circuit.

Last night they dropped a 4-3 decision to the sixth place Philadelphia Athletics.

That made three one-run losses in a row here and 31 such narrow defeats for the season. The all-time record for one-run setbacks is 38 — only seven away and there are 35 games to go.

Latest Loss
As has happened in many of the previous one-runners, the Tigers lost their lead late in the game.

Philadelphia led off with one run in the first inning on Pete Suder's double and Ferris Fain's single. Detroit tied it up in the third on singles by Al Federoff, pitcher Bill Wright and Johnny Pesky.

That's the way it stood until the eighth when big Walt Drope slammed his 20th home run of the season with Johnny Groth on board.

After Two Out
But with two out in the bottom of the eighth, the Tigers let victory slip from their grasp. Billy Hitchcock singled. Pinch-hitter Kite Thomas bounced a grounder to Fred Hatfield, who threw high over Drope's head, sending Hitchcock to third and and Thomas to second. Carl Scheib drove both of them home with a single. Sunder and Fain kept the rally going for two more hits and the deciding run.

Bob Hooper, who relieved Scheib, nipped a budding Detroit rally in the ninth after the Tigers had got the tying run to third. Scheib was credited with the win, his eighth against four losses. Wright, who was relieved by newly-acquired Dave Madison, took his seventh loss against six wins.

The Tigers rest today before moving into Washington for a night game Friday.

Casey Stengel Gambles And Gets Two Defeats

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Win today's game today and worry about tomorrow's game tomorrow.

That's an old baseball saying in which manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees apparently doesn't concur.

At the least it looks that way with the pilot of the world champions holding out his two ace pitchers — Allie Reynolds and Vic Raschi—for the two-game series against the red-hot Cleveland Indians opening in Yankee Stadium tomorrow.

Lose Twice
"Old Case," obviously concerned with Al Lopez's breathing down his neck, twice had led with second string hurlers against the second division Chicago White Sox.

And twice he has seen his proud Yanks go down to defeat. As a result today they hold only a one-game margin over the Indians and that's in the win column. They're all square on the losing side—50 games each.

That's the shortest lead held by the champions since June 14, when they paced Cleveland by a half-length.

Stengel, however, will try again today to whip the Pale Hose with a second-string pitcher. He has nominated rookie Tom Gorman, a right-hander with a 4 and 1 record. Should Gorman fail and the Indians again beat the Boston Red Sox, the standings tonight would show

Cleveland leading by one percentage point.

Casey Gambles
Present plans call for Reynolds to hurl tomorrow's game against the Indians with Raschi getting Saturday's assignment.

Either one or both were ready to pitch against Chicago but Casey chose to gamble with Johnny Schmitz Tuesday night and lost.

Then yesterday the Yankee manager tried to slip his bullpen brigade past the White Sox. Johnny Sain took a quick whipping as he was belted for six runs in the third.

Harry Schaeffer (who didn't get a pitch over the plate), Jim McDonald, Joe Ostrowski and Bill Miller trailed Sain in a forlorn array with only Miller looking like a major leaguer as the Sox won, 12-3.

Detroit Student Unites Family After 7 Years; Separated By Russians

DETROIT (AP)—George T. Noble, 31-year-old Detroit television student, is preparing to reunite his family after seven long years of separation by the Russians.

Noble now can tell everyone that his 60-year-old father, George A. Noble, reached Berlin July Fourth for his first taste of freedom since 1945 when the Russian NKVD agents arrested the whole family in Dresden, Germany. He had known about the release for some time, but the U. S. State Department cautioned him not to publicize it until yesterday.

The elder Noble, his wife, and their two sons, George and John, all German-born naturalized American citizens, were taken into custody by the Russians seven years ago when they returned to Dresden where they had operated a camera factory since 1938. They had been conferring with U. S. officials in West Germany and were accused of espionage.

Son George and his mother escaped after six months' confinement. He returned to this country, but she remained in Berlin to fight for her husband's release, thus losing her citizenship.

The parents now are reunited in Berlin and are planning to come here to join their son. But there will be a sad note in the reunion. The other son, 29-year-old John Noble, still is missing behind the Iron Curtain and is believed to be a Russian prisoner of Siberia.

Held Without Trial

"My father wrote me following his release," Noble said, "and said that John was loaded on to a truck with other slave laborers and taken to another Russian camp."

The Detroit student said his father told him he had been held in various Soviet camps without a trial or formal charges.

"He was allowed to write my mother once a month in the last two years of his detention, but these letters were only 25 words in length," Noble added.

He said the family went to Dresden in 1938 to operate a camera factory to supply a business established in Detroit.

Noble said the German government refused to allow them to return to the United States when World War II started. He was assigned to farm labor.

Uncle Nazi Leader

"After the war when we got our factory back, the Russians gave us huge orders to be sure they got all the cameras we made. When we got production smoothly established, we went to the American zone to see occupation officials. The Russians arrested us when we returned."

Noble admitted his father's brother was Heinrich Spanknebel, was a Nazi leader in the United States who fled the country in 1933 while under investigation by a Federal grand jury.

Noble said he expected his parents would be able to return to Detroit this fall after he has completed necessary affidavits.

Jeanne Crain Reigns As K. Of C. Queen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Jeanne Crain will reign as queen tonight at the grand ball of the Knights of Columbus National Convention.

Other actors and actresses will be present to welcome delegates.

The convention heard messages yesterday from President Truman and Pope Pius XII.

Truman said the order, founded 100 years ago, "has always championed the cause of liberty as a shining principle upon which this nation was founded and grew to greatness."

The message from the Pope singled out "for special mention the praiseworthy work of your order being carried on now for many years on behalf of Catholic youth."

Howard Hughes Sued For $800,000 Slander

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Atty. Martin Gang says Howard Hughes and others slandered him $800,000 worth in statements to the press following settlement of Jean Simmons' and Stewart Granger's recent damage suit against Hughes' RKO Studio.

Gang was attorney for the Grangers in their contract dispute with Hughes. The dispute was settled out of court.

The Hughes statements "accused the plaintiff of a violation of his oath as an attorney," Gang said in his suit filed yesterday.

Bank In Arkansas Short $132,000

DIERKS, Ark. (AP)—Discrepancies in the books at the Bank of Dierks now total $132,000 State Bank Commissioner Ed I. McKinley said as the audit of the firm's shortage continued.

McKinley said some of the money might be accounted for during the remainder of the investigation. Bank President George Westbrook said it might be "a week or two before the books are straightened out."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Opal Simington, the assistant cashier of the little bank for the past 32 years, was reported under a doctor's care.

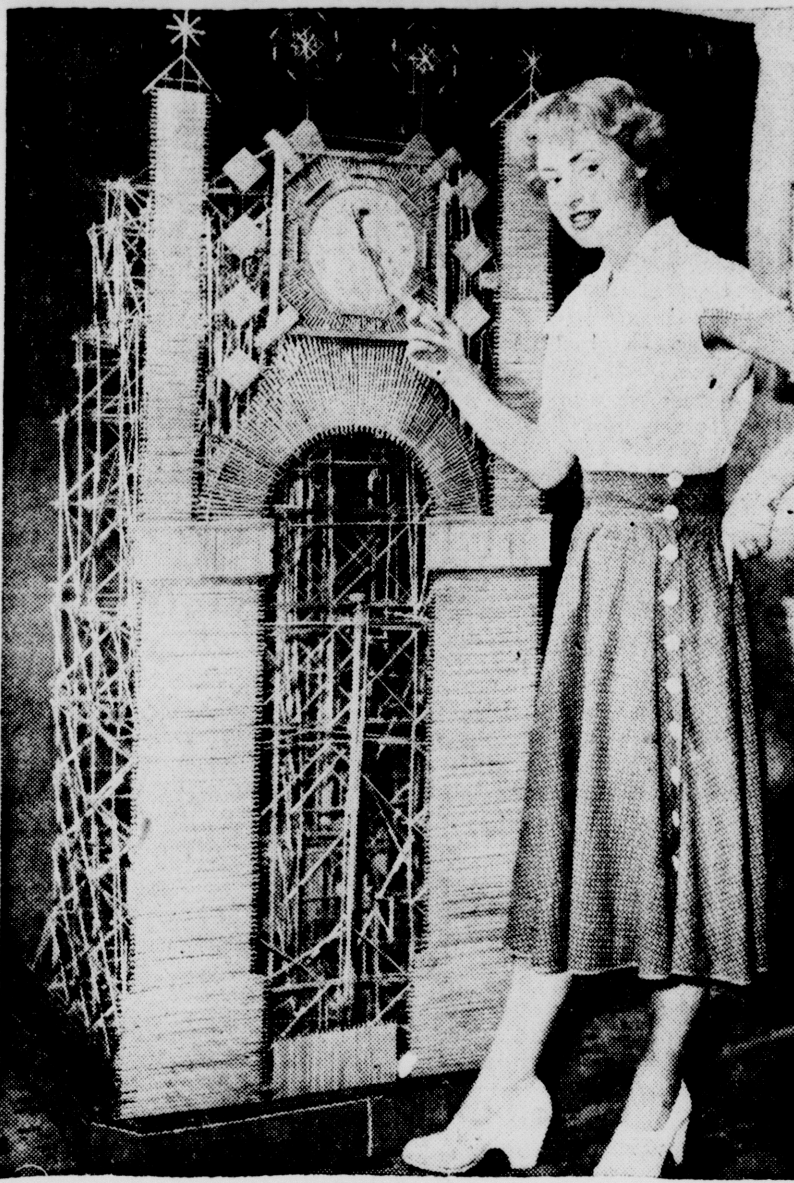

She was arraigned Monday at Hot Springs, Ark., before U. S. Commissioner Elmer Tackett on a federal charge of making false entries. She was released in $7,500 bond.

Reported discrepancies in Mrs. Simington's books first were put at nearly $73,000 Monday when the intensive investigation was begun by the State Bank Commission, the FBI and a private auditing firm.

It runs about eight hours. Everything in it, down to the smallest balance wheel is made of straw.

Olympics-Fostered Romance Bridges The Iron Curtain

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungarian officials disclosed that an Olympics-fostered romance had bridged the Iron Curtain.

The marriage of Belgian newspaperman Pierre Gerard and Hungarian swimmer, Eva Novak, who brought three medals home from Helsinki, was revealed here.

The groom was identified as the editor of Les Sports, published in Brussels.

The announcement of the nuptials did not tell where or when the couple met, but said that Gerard came back to Budapest with the Hungarian Olympic team. Since he was a foreigner, the couple had to ask Hungary's government for permission to marry.

That, said friends, was granted promptly. Pierre, 38, and Eva, 22, were wed Aug. 11 and returned Monday from a brief honeymoon on Lake Balaton.

Swimming associates said the bride, who is studying medicine, intends to complete her studies. The groom, they added, plans to return to his newspaper work in Belgium but expects to visit his wife every month.

Eva, her friends said, wants to keep her Hungarian citizenship and hopes to represent her country in the 1956 Olympics.

She already is the world's record holder in the 200-meter breast stroke race for women, though she only came second in the event at Helsinki.
